CURIOUS FACTS.

THE average Mexican laborer supports his family on 10 cents per diem, invested in corn and beans.

JAPANESE engineers propose to adopt a system of earthwork defences protected by an iron shield one foot in thickness, and extending twenty-five feet on each side of the gun.

AMERICAN authors are more read than the English in Japan. Last year 86,000 English and 119,000 American books were imported into that country, so that the old question, "Who reads an American book?" was fairly answered.

A CITIZEN of Douglas County, Kansas, has hit upon a new way of destroying wolves. He puts a chunk of beef where the wolves will find it, and in the fight resulting for its possession one or more are sure to be left dead on the field.

M. PAUL LEROY-BEAULIEU gives figures showing the quantity of tobacco consumed in the different countries of Europe. The rate per 100 inhabitants is, according to him, as follows: Spain, 110 pounds; Italy, 128 pounds; Great Britain, 138 pounds, Russia, 182 pounds; Denmark, 224 pounds; Norway, 229 pounds; Austria, 273 pounds.

IT is reported from Detroit that a lad named Frank Bailey, 16 years old, has such a mania for thrusting pins and needles into the right side of his face and neck that it has become necessary to send him to a lunatic asylum. At the time of his departure he had from thirty to forty pins buried to the head in his cheek, besides an unknown number of needles that were out of sight.

THE average watch is composed of 175 different pieces, comprising upwards of 2,400 seperate and distinct operations in its manufacture. The balance has 18,000 beats or vibrations per hour, 12,960,080 in thirty days, 157,680,000 in one year; it travels 143.100 inches with each vibration, which is equal to 9¾ miles in twenty-four hours, 292½ miles in thirty days, or 3,558¾ miles in one year.

IT has been legally settled in Texas that the moon has an immense influence in enlarging the brand on cattle. A lawsuit was pending relative to the ownership of a herd of cattle, and the solution depended upon the proof of the brand, which was found on comparison to be three times as large as the branding iron which the claimant used. Thirteen witnesses were introduced, all of them experts in branding and cattle herding. They all swore that when cattle were branded in the dark of the moon the brand will never, no matter how large the animal may grow, get larger than the dimensions of the iron used. On the other hand, when either grown cattle or calves are branded in the light of the moon the scar will spread, and the lighter the moon the larger will be the spread. And the suit, involving several thousand dollars worth of cattle, was settled on this testimony. So the question is legally settled that it is the moon that does it.

A LIST of the contents of the five royal botanic gardens of Ceylon has been compiled. It embraces about 3,000 species, mostly trees and shrubs.

RAILROAD COLLISION.

Two Trains Come Together Near Lima, Ohio, Wrecking Two Engines—Two Persons Injured.

LIMA, Ohio, Aug. 28.—A collision occurred on the Dayton and Michigan railroad near here this morning, between a freight train and a special train coming from Ottawa with a military company on its way to Columbus.

The freight was backing into the siding and the flagman who was sent to warn the special failed to perform his duty. He has not made his appearance to explain his failure. The two engines came together and one or two cars were wrecked, but nobody was killed. Two passengers were hurt but were able to get home. One engineer and a conductor received slight injuries.

ELECTRIC CAPERS.

The Motor and Car on an Electric Railroad Run Away and Wreck Things Generally.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—The motor and car on the South Side electric railroad ran away this morning and was completely wrecked. Seven persons were in the car at the time and all were more or less seriously injured. One, Mrs. Rachael Herron, is thought to be fatally hurt.

The motor and car were coming down a steep grade at Mount Oliver, when the speed suddenly increased and the engineer lost control of the brakes.

The train sped with lightning rapidity to the bottom of the hill, when it jumped the track and plunged into a telegraph pole. The cause of the accident is attributed to the engineer failing to lower the sprocket wheel and being unable to stop the motor by the use of the brake.

LUCKY MRS. BIGLER.

She Comes Into Possession of a Nice Sum Through the Death of an Uncle.

WABASH, Ind., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Bigler, a well-known old lady of this city, has just received word that an uncle named Brandenburg had died in Germany leaving a fortune valued at $1,000,000 to herself and a few other heirs, all living in the United States. The bulk of the property is in Baltimore, Md., consisting of a number of fine business blocks. The windfall is a complete surprise to Mrs. Bigler, who will undoubtedly come into possession of her share of the vast estate

DIED FROM A STING

Peculiar Case of Fatality Near Ripley, Ohio—A Young Lady the Victim.

RIPLEY, Obio, Aug. 28.—Miss Lucy Stephenson, a daughter of Thomas Stephenson, Esq., a farmer living about five miles from town, died very suddenly about a week ago. She was engaged in picking grapes when she received a sting from some kind of an insect among the vines. But little attention was paid to this incident, but it afterward resulted in blood poisoning, which caused her death.

STRIKERS TRY TO STOP TRAINS.

The Wisconsin Central Has to Appeal to the Ashland Police.

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 28.—The striking brakemen on the Wisconsin Central railroad, when a train attempted to start out last night, pulled the pins and set the brakes. The police force was then called out, and the first freight train since Saturday was pulled out safely. Several other attempts were made to stop trains, but the presence of the police tended to prevent violence. Two of the strikers were arrested.

Mr. Martin's Canvass for Congress.

MARION, Aug, 27.—The Hon. A. N. Martin, democratic candidate for congress, is making a thorough canvass of this county at this time. He is leaving no stone unturned. His meetings are largely attended and the bare announcement that he will speak brings immense crowds of people and all go away favorably impressed Recently he spoke to a crowded house at Fairmount, the hotbed of republicanism in this county; all could not get near enough to hear his speech, which was able and convincing and will bear good fruit. Friday night at Jonesboro he delivered another address on the tariff issue and then proceeded to knock the stuffing out of the tree whisky plank of the republican platform. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

Death of Barnum's Giantess.

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., Aug. 28.—Miss Sylvia Hardy, the biggest woman in Maine, commonly known as the Maine giantess, died at her home, in Wilton, Saturday night. Miss Hardy traveled with Barnum for many years and was nearly seven feet tall.

New York Republicans.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The republican state convention met shortly after noon. General Benjamin F. Tracy was elected temporary chairman and addressed the convention at length.

AN ANGRY RULER!

The Morocco Emperor Instructs His Troops to Wreak Vengeance on the Rebels.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A dispatch to the Central News from Langier says that the emperor of Morrocco is determined to wreak quick and fierce vengeance on the rebels who treacherously massacred Prince Muley and his 200 followers recently. The troops sent against the insurgents are given free license to ravage and burn. Neither children nor the aged are spared and the women are being outraged and enslaved.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The president has reluctantly declined the invitation to attend the grangers' meeting at Williams Grove, Pa., because he feels the necessity to rest.

The president's message and fishery bill were referred by the foreign relations committee to a sub-committee to report next Thursday.

SCOTT WON'T RUN.

The Pennsylvania Statesman Declines a Renomination, but His Constituents Demand His Return.

ERIE, Pa., August. 28.—At the meeting of the democratic county convention yesterday the chief attraction was Hon. Wm. L. Scott, who was expected to say whether or not he would be a candidate for re-election. To the dismay of the convention, Mr. Scott positively declined to entertain any offer of a renomination to congress.

He gave as his reason for declining the nomination that his physical condition will not bear him up under the labors of another term at Washington, and that his ill health and deprivation of his home association has made him a most miserable man. The county convention indorsed Mr. Scott in a stirring string of resolutions, and the rank and file in the district will try to force him into the field again.

Before leaving for Washington yesterday Mr. Scott published a denial of the statement attributed to him by Hon. Orange Noble, that of saying: "We can never control the workingmen till he eats to-day what he earns to-morrow." Mr. Scott also posts Mr. Noble's allegation as an unqualified falsehood.

Brazil and a Republic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Consul Manton, who for eighteen years has been consul at Collonia, Uruguay, in an interview said that the recent emancipation of slaves by Brazil was simply a sop to the large number of the southern provinces who, he said, are ripe for a revolution, and it is likely that as soon as Dom Pedro dies a concerted effort will be made to overthrow the thorne and declare a republic in Brazil.

Quarrelled Over Politics.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Aug. 28.—Frank and Elam Hail, brothers, quarrelled over politics, on the evening of the 26th, with Joseph Peavey, aged sixty-five, of Nashville, Brown county, Ind. A bloody fight was the result, in which Peavey used an axe. Frank's skull was fractured and he died at midnight. Elam, the other brother, received fatal injuries from which he died yesterday. Peavey escaped arrest.

Base Ball.

The following is the result of yesterday's games:

National League—New York, 2; Boston, 4 Detroit, 0; Indianapolis, 6. Chicago, 7; Pittsburg, 11.

Afternoon—Chicago 10; Pittsbug, 1.

American Association—Baltimore, 4; Cincinnati, 3. Athletics, 6; Louisville, 4.

Types Ready for the Parade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Typographical Union No. 16 met yesterday afternoon at Plasterers' hall. The committee on parade reported that arrangements had been made for the marching and uniforming of 600 men, who will participate in the parade of the Trade and Labor Assembly on labor's holiday, the first Monday in September.

Thrown Over an Embankment.

TIFFIN, Ohio, Aug. 28.—John Virts was driving along the river road this morning with his sister, when the horse jumped over a thirty foot embankment, instantly killing the lady and fatally injuring Virts.

Reports Exaggerated.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 28.—The report of the forest fires in the vicinity of Nadeau have been greatly exaggerated. No lives lost. No valuable timber destroyed.

Bunkoed Out of $2,000.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—John Doane, a wealthy farmer living in the suburbs of town, has been bunkoed out of $2,000 by confidence men.

Nominated for Congress.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 28—The Ninth district democratic convention to-day nominated Hon. James McCabe, of Warren county.

Minnie Hauk Ill.

LONDON, Aug. 28,—Minnie Hauk is suffering from nervous prostration, and will not be able to go to America next operatic season.

GOT THEIR PLUNDER

A Watchman Attacks Two Burglars, Who Flee and Leave $400 in Money Behind Them.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—A watchman seeing two suspicious persons entering a cab at Madison and Market, enquired their business. They opened fire and he returned it. They fled and the watchman, being wounded in the leg, returned to the cab and found a fine set of burglar's tools and a bag containing $400 in money. It was ascertained afterward that the money had been taken from the store of Henry W. King & Co.

A ROYAL WELCOME!

Awaits the Rifle and Battery Boys This Evening.

The Pittsburg passenger train from the west, due here at 7:40 o'clock, this evening, will whirl into Fort Wayne, the Rifle and Battery boys laden with laurels and trophies of the competitive drill at the Evansville encampment.

The hearts of the young militiamen are overflowing with gladness while home pride must stir the tenderest emotions of the boys.

They honored themselves and honored Fort Wayne, let us make their return triumpnant.

The friends of the companies were active to-day and have made great preparations to receive their companions to-night. The City band will head the reception squadron, and fire works, red lights and everything calculated to brighten the entry is secured.

The line of march begins at the south depot. On the arrival of the train the procession will move south on Calhoun to Berry, on Berry to Court, on Court to Main, on Main to Calhoun, on Calhoun to Columbia, on Columbia to Harrison, on Harrison to Main, on Main to Calhoun, on Calhoun to the armory in the Wolke block.

Fourth race, five eights of a mile, Chestnut Bell won, Vendetta second, Renaman third. Time, 1:04½.

Rains in Southern Indiana.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 28.—The southern part of Indiana has been visited by much the severest rains of the year. All the creeks and rivers have become great and destructive torrents, flooding cornfields, sweeping away fences, stacks of wheat and hay, and carrying off a great deal of valuable hardwood timber. The fruit crop has also suffered.

Horatio Hastings Weld Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 28.—Horatio Hastings Weld, D. D., for many years rector of Christ church, Riverton, N. J., died at his home, in Riverton, last night, of heart failure. For a number of years he was the editor of Boston Transcript and he was one of the earliest editors of the New York Sun. He was born in Boston in 1811.

McAuliffe and Jem Smith.

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 28.—Joe McAuliffe and Jem Smith have virtually declined to fight Conley. The latter has issued a challenge to Kilrain to fight for $1,000 a side, London prize ring rules, to a finish for the championship of the world.

Gone Fishing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The president and Colonel Lamont and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller left Washington last night on a fishing excursion of two or three days in the vicinity of Clifton Forge, in Blue Ridge mountains.

Behind the Bars.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Cox who defrauded the Central Bank of Toronto last fall of $150,000, and who has since been here and in Buffalo, was arrested at Niagara, Ont., by the Canadian authorities.

MADE A BISHOP.

The Pope Appoints Rev. Dr. John S. Foley as Bishop of the Diocese of Detroit.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28.—The papal brief appointing Rev. Dr. John S. Foley to the bishopric of Detroit was received by Cardinal Gibbons yesterday. The conservation will not take place before November.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Mr. W. S. O'Rourke is able to be out again.

Mr. Lot Dickson, of Indianapolis, is in the city.

Wm. F. Beneke and Minnie K. Mennewisch have been licensed to wed.

The Platt Deutsche Fritz Renter Verein excurt to-morrow and will have a gay time.

G. W. Ewing, H. C. Rockhill and Will Fleming, dined at the Wayne today with W. B. Nimmons, of Bluffton.

The students at the M. E. college gave a very pleasant surprise, last night, to Miss Jennie Herman, on Boon street.

J. Kaiser, New York; John King and E. G. Baker, Cincinnati; A. J. Lamm and A. W. Arnold, Chicago, are guest of the Aveline.

Mr. A. L. Johns left yesterday for Minneapolis and the northwest, in the interest of the harness business. He has an extensive trade in that section.

Dr. Geo. Howland, the superintendent of the Chicago schools, will lecture in circuit court room to-morrow evening, before the Allen county Teachers' Institute

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Rossington took place to-day from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John Wilson and was very largely attended. Rev. Wagenhals officiated.

Mrs. Frank MacDougal and her children, who have been the guests of Miss Katie MacDougal, of West Wayne street, will return to their home at Ottawa, Ont., to-morrow.

Peter R. Pickel, the young author, has been asked to read an essay to the Wayne Literary society, at New Haven, before his return east. It is not known whether he will accept.

H. H. Findley and V. C. Ingram, Indianapolis, J. H. Russell, Jackson; Duke M. Slattery, Fred Kendall, P. P. Holloday and C. O. Webster, Chicago; are guests of the Wayne.

At the meeting to organize a first voters' club in the Eighth ward last night, over fifty names were placed upon the membership roll. The boys up there are going to keep the banner for the ward giving the largest democratic majority.

Something like a million and a quarter gallons of water are pumped from the three new wells south of the water works basin every twenty-four hours now and the supply is almost sufficient. The contractor is sinking another well and will put down thirty of them altogether. This settles the water supply question.

Quite a large number of republican railroad men met at the Morton club hall last night to organize a Harrison club. Most of them looked into the luxurious parlors for the first time; none of them were ever invited to attend the winter receptions of the gay club; none of them were asked before to mingle with the silk-stocking statesmen; not one, but they come in now when they are politically useful. What a picture of equality this is, Mr. Railroader, isn't it? You are not good enough for Morton club society only when they want your votes. Just send in your application for membership in the club and see how quick you will be black-balled, rejected and humiliated, as many republicans before have, who didn't happen to be society people. The railroad men ought to resent this transitory hospitality and not partake of it, and we are honest about it.

Took the Bank's Funds.

HILLSDALE, Mich., Aug. 28.—Charles W. Waldron, one of the owners and managers of the Waldron bank of this city, has absconded, taking with him money and securities variously estimated at from $60,000 to $80,000. It is reported that a woman accompanied him, but this is not confirmed. He leaves a wife and two children, but before going deeded a small amount of property to them. The bank is doing business and depositors will be paid in full.

Curious Phase of Deafness.

It is often said that persons afflicted with certain forms of deafness can hear perfectly in the midst of a tumult. A locomotive engineer, upon examination by a medical expert, was found to be deaf, and, although he protested that he could hear perfectly well while in the cab, he was suspended. Some time afterward, having made vain attempts to better his defect, he applied for reinstatement, again urging the fact of his perfect hearing while on duty. Finally, to satisfy him, the physician rode with him upon a locomotive for a long distance and put him to every possible test. To the doctor's surprise, he found him able not only to hear ordinary sounds without difficulty, but also to distinguish whispers and faint movements that were inaudible to the physician.—Boston Post.

RETURN TO WORK!

The Brotherhood Strikers on the Mackey System of Railroads Settle Their Difficulty With That Road.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 28.—A secret meeting of the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen was held yesterday to consider the strike on the Mackey system of railroads. A committee from each brotherhood was appointed to wait upon President Mackey. In the conference that followed the committee notified Mr. Mackey that the strikers would return to work if he would agree to investigate the charges against Master Mechanic Smith, and if they were substantiated to remedy the evil. To this Mackey consented and the strikers returned to work.

A Scare at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—A man suffering with all the symptoms of yellow fever was admitted to the Medico-Chirurgical hospital last night. The hospital authorities refused to give his name, but it is learned on good authority that he was one of two passengers on the steamship Harnwell, from Santiego, Cuba, to Philadelphia, by direction of the British authorities at the former place.

A Queer Dying Request.

XENIA, Ind., August 28.—Mrs. O. Taylor died yesterday at Peru. Her request that both hands and feet be amputated and taken from her body and sent to France for burial was complied with. The rest of her body will be buried in Somerset to-day.

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Ath-lo-pho-ros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 3, 1887.
In my own family Athlophoros was used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON.

THE New York democrats met to nominate a ticket to-day.

FORT WAYNE must have natural gas and will give a liberal franchise.

SINCE January 1, $1,206,061 worth of real estate has changed hands at Evansville.

ELEVEN new democratic papers have been started in Indiana within the last two weeks.

ALL honor to the Fort Wayne Rifles and battery boys. They deserve a royal welcome to-night.

OCEAN steamers are racing now and friends might as well bid a tearful farewell to the passengers. Human life is a secondary consideration when the glory of a race is at stake.

THE Jeffersonians will indulge in their first annual parade Friday evening. The uniform is the white hat and cane. Every Jeffersonian should be in line and in uniform. Jeffersonian pride prompts this.

CHAIRMAN JEWETT having challenged General Hovey to make a joint canvass of the state with Colonel Matson, Chairman Huston, of the republican committee, is at sea. He says he will leave it to the other members of the committee and General Hovey to decide and appears to be weeping bitter tears at the idea.

MR. S. P. SHERRIN, secretary of the national democratic committee, and Mr. Jewett, chairman of the state committee are at New York on political business. Mr. Jewett goes east to make arrangements with the national committee for prominent speakers for the Indiana canvass. It is his determination to have the ablest men available and his trip to New York is to make sure of getting just what he wants. The men from outside the state will be expected to devote their speeches chiefly to the tariff question and it is desired that they shall be men of such ability that they will be ready for joint debates at any and all times. The democrats are satisfied of the justice of the cause and desire to place the issue squarely before the people.

WEAK ARGUMENTS AGAINST MR. BASS.

The Indianapolis Journal has undertaken the task of answering Mr. J. H. Bass' magnificent plea for tax reduction. The Gazette, aping this example, attempts something in the same line this morning. The argument of the organs of the tax robbers is that Mr. Bass manufactures car wheels and English manufacturers cannot compete with him for they are not in the business. The spectacle of a manufacturer honest enough to be a tax reformer causes deep unrest in the bosom of the average organ editor and mixes his thinking qualities to a pitiable degree.

Next to Mr. Bass, the largest car wheel manufactory in the world is owned by the Krupps, in Germany. Mr. Bass knows he can compete with this great house, or any other, for that matter, and not impair his own interests or the interests of his workmen.

But Mr. Bass is not alone a car wheel manufacturer. His shops and foundries at Fort Wayne, Chicago and St. Louis do every conceivable sort of iron and machine work. His output must necessarily meet the manufactures of the Old World in the markets, but like the honest, progressive gentleman that he is, Mr. Bass courts this commercial and business rivalry, knowing that no injury can come to him or his.

The republicans can scarcely conceive such a thing as an honest manufacturer and finding themselves discomfited, make inglorious statements, such as the Gazette does when it asks if Mr. Bass ever imported pauper labor.

Mr. Bass' army of workmen in Fort Wayne will testify that he did not and they will rebuke such palpable falsehoods at the polls.

A PRACTICAL LESSON.

Mr. Blaine speaking for the republican party said, "he would not venture to say whether trusts are altogether advantageous or disadvantageous," but he was prepared to say that "they are largely private affairs with which neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any particular right to interfere."

Do the working people believe this is a wise policy to support?

The coal combination has just advanced the price of coal 25 to 50 cents a ton. It controls the full supply of this country so absolutely that no individual nor company, though possessing millions of capital, could successfully mine and send anthracite to market.

The sugar trust has advanced the price of sugar from 1¼ to 2½ cents per pound within a few months. Its exactions will take from the people $30,000,000 this year in the arbitrarily increased price of sugar.

The democratic party proposes to dissolve and smash these robber trusts.

Mr. Voter, take your choice.

QUEER PROTECTION TO AMERICAN LABOR.

Saturday, July 7, over 2,000 Americans sailed from New York to various parts of Europe. They go to spend the summer abroad. It is estimated that the cheapest three months' tour that can be made in Europe will exceed $500. Many of those who sailed the 7th will spend ten times that amount while abroad, but it is safe to say that the 2,000 tourists will average $1,000 each which will in the aggregate reach the sum of $2,000,000. In the week ending Saturday, July 7, the number of immigrants which landed at Castle Garden was 5,161. I doubt if they brought $2,000,000 with them for "their immediate support," and if they did, this country made nothing by the exchange. But it is estimated that the total sum which they brought with them did not exceed $30,000, which leaves the balance of $1,970,000 in favor of Europe. Those who went to Europe did not leave vacancies in the ranks of labor, and they took with them what had been earned for them by American workmen, and in their place we find 5,161 foreigners dumped in upon the American laborer's shoulders, demanding that he divide up what little of his earnings he has left, after paying the expenses of his employer to Europe.—T. V. Powderly.

Blaine vs. Powderly.

James G. Blaine expressed the sentiments of his party when he said at Portland, Me., August 15:

"The trusts are private affairs with which neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any particular right to interfere."

Master Workman Powderly has emphatically expressed the opinion of the Knights of Labor and people generally when in his evidence before the congressional committee August 20, he said:

"The strong arm of the law should reach out and deal severely with trusts of all kinds. They are like highwaymen and should be wiped out of existence."

Foreign Pauper Labor.

In his evidence before the special committee on immigration in New York this week, Mr. Powderly sketched what he had seen in the Eckert mine at Frostburg, Md., 1882. He found a high board fence around the mine. Inside was a narrow wooden building, with rows of bunks filled with straw, on which was a ticking that once was white, but when he saw it was black, "and fully alive to the situation," he added with a significant smile. One hundred and five men slept there. He saw one man who came in on a crutch. His leg had been broken and the smell from the bandaging was so offensive as to keep the other men from his bunk. He rolled in just as he was, filthy clothing and all. Then some men came in and sat down to a rough wooden table to dinner without having washed their faces and hands. He saw them partake of meal water and salt pork, the latter "also very lively." The pork was bought at wholesale and kept till eaten.

"That was the class of people," continued Mr. Powderly," that comes here to take the place of the American miners who struck against the reduction of wages. They succeeded in breaking the backbone of the strike. The American miners were obliged to work at reduced rates, while the emigrants worked in some instance at less than half." This is the protection a high tariff gives American labor.

Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to purify your blood and give you strength.

Sixth Ward Jeffersonians.

The Jeffersonian club will meet at the Harrington block, Tuesday evening Aug. 28, 1888 at 7:30, to complete organization of companies C and D. All are invited.
H. F. FRANCH, Pres.
M. J. HOULAHAN, Sec'y.

Mr. John H. Bass.

Toledo Bee.

John H. Bass, of Fort Wayne, is the most extensive manufacturer in Indiana, and interested either as manager, director or stockholder in establishments employing 2,500 men. He says he does not believe the passage of the Mills bill would have any bad effect on his business, or upon the price paid for labor; but that a general cheapening of raw materials would "place our manufacturers on a more nearly equal footing with their foreign rivals, would enlarge our markets, instead of keeping a Chinese wall around the country, and would thereby increase the demand for our labor;" and from this he draws the very natural conclusion that, "as the demand for labor increases, of course wages advance." Referring also to the proposition of the Mills bill to make lumber free, Mr. Bass says there have been for several years past in Fort Wayne representatives of firms in England and Scotland, buying timber and lumber for shipment to those countries, and he therefore believes there is not the slightest danger of this country being flooded by foreign timber or lumber.

These are the opinions of the largest employer of labor in Indiana, a man who has never had a strike of employes for higher wages, and his views can not fail to have great weight in that state.

A Circus Dressing-Room.

The dressing-room of a circus presents a queer scene during a performance. The dressing tent is divided by curtains eight to ten feet high into three different compartments. In one the men dress, in another the women make their toilets, and in the third, whichs i, the first entered from the exhibition tent, the animals to be used in the different acts are made ready for their work, the horses saddled and bridled, and the trick animals dressed. In the men's dressing-room with the Barnum, over 150 individuals at a time are removing their street garbs and getting into their ring costumes. Look in this department in the morning, when no performance is going on, and you will see only four or five rows of closed trunks, more than 150, stretching in five or six lines through the space. On posts four feet high, at intervals, are small, square table-tops and square 14x14 inch mirrors. The tables have chalk and bismuth stains, and there are marks of much usage on them. At these tables and before these mirrors the clowns and other performers make up. The trunks are arranged in exactly the same order in every town. Each man has his place, and he can go into the tent in the dark and place his hand on his trunk. All nationalities are here commingled. You can see a devout Arab among his companions in all conditions of costumes or nudity, sitting piously, reading his Koran, and Japanese acrobats carefully preparing themselves and their children for their act in the ring. All the performers are on hand at 7 o'clock, and when they go home after the performance their trunks are packed and locked, and so when we leave a city the trunks are lifted onto wagons and carried away, only to be deposited in exactly the same order in the next town in which we show.—Detroit Free Press.

But It Was Not Betting.

A party of church members in the blue-grass region, Kentucky, being fond of horse-racing, yet conscientiously opposed to betting, hit upon a rather remarkable method to give an air of excitement to their favorite sport. Macey Brothers, the horse-breeders, have a yearling named Cuckoo that they are willing to back for any amount from $10 to $100 to beat any yearling in Woodford County. The firm offer the following proposition for the benefit of church members: "To any church member owning a yearling, but who is opposed to betting, they agree that if the Cuckoo yearling wins the race the loser is to go to church attended by Mr. Macey on the Sunday following the race and deposit the specified amount in the contribution box. Should the Cuckoo yearling be beaten Mr. Macey pledges himself to do the same for the other church."—Philadelphia Times.

TAR-OID

NATURE HAS NO BETTER REMEDY
Than this New Compound of Tar for Wounds, Burns, Sores, Piles, Salt Rheum, Eczema, and Coughs, Croup, Scrofula, Ulcers, Varicose Veins, Bronchitis, and Consumption.

TAR-OID must not be confounded with the cheap remedies which are prepared on the theory that Skin Diseases are caused by impure blood, which is not true. They have their cause in a want of vital action in the skin. TAR-OID restores this action, hence it cures every form of Skin Disease, also sores, burns, etc. It is soothing and wonderfully healing—gratifying results follow in every case. It is harmless and can be used with perfect safety by any one. It is superior to all other remedies. There is positively nothing else like it.
TAR-OID is a sure cure for piles. It never fails. We warrant a cure or refund the money. It gives immediate relief. It is perfectly safe, yet powerful in its action.

Old-Time Executions.

In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries our method of executions was most brutal. There was the long ride of the criminal in an open cart, with his coffin by his side, either to Tyburn or to the spot where he committed the murder; the cart was stopped under the gallows, the rope was fastened round the criminal's neck, the carman gave the horse a lash, and the poor wretch was left swaying to and fro, kicking. If he had friends, they would try to shorten his agony by hanging on to his legs and beating his breast, a shocking sight. But hanging then was looked upon as a holiday spectacle, in which we find the lower class took great interest and evinced much sympathy with the deceased. For instance, Claude Duval, the celebrated highwayman, lay in state at the Tangier Tavern in St. Giles' in a room hung with black cloth, the bier covered with scutcheons and with eight wax candles burning around. He was buried by torchlight, and was followed to Covent Garden Chruch by a numerous train of mourners, mostly women. Misson, a French writer who visited England in the reign of William III., says: "He that is hang'd or otherwise executed first takes care to get himself shav'd and handsomely drest, either in mourning, or in the dress of a bridegroom. This done, he sets his friends to work to get him leave to be bury'd and to carry his coffin with him, which is easily obtain'd. When his suit of cloaths, or night gown, his gloves, hat, perriwig, nosegay, coffin, flannel dress for his corps, and all those things are bought and prepared, the main point is taken care of—his mind is at peace, and then he thinks of his conscience. Generally he studies a speech which he pronounces under the gallows and gives in writing to the Sheriff or the minister that attends him in his last moments, desiring that it may be printed. Sometimes the girls dress in white, with great silk scarves, and carry baskets full of flowers and oranges, scattering these favors all the way they go. But to represent things as they really are, I must needs own that, if a pretty many of these people dress thus gayly and go to it with such an air of indifference, there are many others that go slovenly enough and with very dismal phizzes. I remember, one day, I saw in the park a handsome girl, very well dressed, that was then in mourning for her father, who had been hang'd but a month before at Tyburn for false coinage. So many countries so many fashions."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Western Sod Shanties.

To begin with, there is something forbidding and repulsive about the very name of shanty. We associate it with a condition of dirt and dilapidation, although there is no reason why a shanty should not be neat and clean both inside and out.

The word is said to be derived from two Irish words meaning an old house; therefore, a shanty need not be small, dirty, or out of repair. In this country, shanties are chiefly found in the West, and although they present no feature to gratify the artistic sense, they are better than they look.

The sod shanty marks the crest of the advancing wave of civilization, and it is never built with a view to more than temporary occupation, giving way in time to commodious and stylish dwellings or substantial farm-houses with spacious barns and outbuildings.

But, while it lasts, the sod shanty possesses qualities of more pratical importance than mere beauty of form or color. It is warm in winter and cool in summer, and no other dwelling affords more secure protection against the storms which sweep across the country from the extreme north to the Gulf of Mexico.

Most of these shanties are finished inside in a style that renders them more than comfortable. Narrow boards are set against the inside of the walls and nailed to the floor, as well as to horizontal strips built into the wall for that purpose. Thin, cheap cotton cloth or building paper is tacked on these strips all around the room, and wall-paper is then pasted on in the usual way. The roof is of boards or of earth sodded over.

Thus, with ingenuity, taste, and a few hundred feet of pine boards, the enterprising settler and his wife will soon build a comfortable, if not elegant, dwelling, to shelter them until the increasing wealth of the settler warrants a change.

But, at its worst, the sod shanty of the West is far superior to the Irishman's hovel, the Mexican adobe hut, or the "auld clay biggin" which sheltered Scotland's plowman bard.—Golden Days.

IT WON'T BAKE BREAD.—In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

An Unsatisfied Longing.

How impossible it is to please some people. Railway train in Pennsylvania, spinning along about thirty-five miles an hour. Landslide lets a rock as big as a house fall across the track. Engineer reverses, puts on the air, stops the train with a jerk that sprains a man's back, and stopped about twenty feet on the safe side of the rock and eternity. Now the man with a sprained back sues the company for damages. Because the engineer didn't go on and break his neck instead of spraining his back.—Rairdatte.

A Woman Who Was Afraid.

A man was once walking along one road and a woman along another. The road finally united; the man and woman, reaching the junction at the same time, walked on from there together. The man was carrying a large iron kettle on his back, and in one hand he held by the legs a live chicken, in the other a cane, and he was leading a goat. Just as they were coming to a deep, dark ravine the woman said to the man: "I'm afraid to go through that ravine with you; it is a lonely place, and you might overpower me and kiss me by force." "If you were afraid of that," said the man, "you shouldn't have walked with me at all. How can I possibly overpower you and kiss you by force when I have this great iron kettle on my back, a cane in one hand, a live chicken in the other, and am leading this goat? I might as well be tied hand and foot!" "Yes," replied the woman, "but if you should stick your cane in the ground and tie the goat to it, and turn the kettle bottom-side up and put the chicken into it, then you might wickedly kiss me in spite of my resistance." "Success to thy ingenuity, oh, woman!" said the rejoicing man to himself: "I should never have thought of such expedients." And when they came to the ravine he stuck his cane in the ground and tied his goat to it, gave the chicken to the woman, saying, "hold it while I cut some grass for the goat," and then, lowering the kettle from his shoulder, imprisoned the chicken under it, and wickedly kissed the woman, as she was afraid he would! —Notes and Queries.

Scrofula, in the blood, corrupts and contaminates every tissue and fiber in the whole body; but whether appearing in the form of swellings, erysipelas, or running sores, the malignant poisons of this disease are completely eradicated by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

THE INTER-STATE FAIR!

Most of the Preliminaries Arranged.

A Finer List of Attractions Than Ever Presented.

A Woman's Leap From a Balloon and Parachute Descent.

Grand Base Ball Tournament Between the Chicago and Cincinnati Clubs.

Magnificent Display of State of Georgia Products.

Unusual Attractions in the Speed and Live Stock Departments.

The Famous Cyclorama of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The Inter-State Fair, at Fort Wayne, this year promises to surpass, in point of sensational attractions, agricultural, horticultural and floral exhibits, speed and live stock departments, all previous exhibitions of the society. The accociation, at an enormous expense, have secured a list of novel attractions never witnessed in this section of the state before, and believe that the public will appreciate their efforts to make the Fair a grand success. For the first time in the State of Indiana, a woman (M'lle Beaumont) of Cincinnati, will leap from a balloon at a great altitude and make the descent by means of a frail, umbrella-like parachute, to the ground. There will be a three days' base ball tournament, between the two best amateur clubs in the world, for the championship of Chicago and Cincinnati. Mr. Spalding, of Chicago, presents the famous "Kents," and Cincinnati will be represented by the renowned "Shamrocks," an organization that has repeatedly defeated the best league clubs in America. This contest will be for a handsome purse offered by the association and will be played upon its merits. A disinterested umpire, from a neutral city, will act during all the games. The great State of Georgia has fitted out a train bearing an exhibit of agricultural, horticultural and mineral resources of that commonwealth, which will be here to compete with our own section in excellence. The State of Tennessee will also have an exhibition of her products. Some unusually attractive contests are offered in the speed department, and evidences are already at hand of the finest display of live stock ever seen in northern Indiana. Among other side attractions, for which a slight additional charge will be made, is the famous cycloramic painting of the battle of Gettysburg, an exact fac-simile of the world famed painting at Chicago. The above, and numerous other attractions to be presented, ought to give to the Inter-State Fair of 1888, the grandest success it has ever achieved. Remember the dates, Fort Wayne, September 4th to 7th.

Tri State Fair.

The Wabash railway will sell round trip tickets to Toledo, Aug. 27th to 31st, on account of the Tri State Fair. Good to return until Sept. 1st, at $2.80. 25-5t

DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass.,

Gentlemen:—A sense of gratitude and the desire to render a service to the public impel me to make the following statements:

My college career, at New Haven, was interrupted by a severe cold which so enfeebled me that, for ten years, I had a hard struggle for life. Hemorrhage from the bronchial passages was the result of almost every fresh exposure. For years I was under treatment of the ablest practitioners without avail. At last I learned of which I used (moderately and in small doses) at the first recurrence of a cold or any chest difficulty, and from which I invariably found relief. This was over 25 years ago. With all sorts of exposure, in all sorts of climates, I have never, to this day, had any cold nor any affection of the throat or lungs which did not yield to AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL within 24 hours.

Of course I have never allowed myself to be without this remedy in all my voyages and travels. Under my own observation, it has given relief to vast numbers of persons; while in acute cases of pulmonary inflammation, such as croup and diphtheria in children, life has been preserved through its effects. I recommend its use in light but frequent doses. Properly administered, in accordance with your directions, it is in any house. I speak earnestly because I feel earnestly. I have known many cases of apparently confirmed bronchitis and cough, with loss of voice, particularly among clergymen and other public speakers, perfectly cured by this medicine. Faithfully yours,

C. EDWARDS LESTER.

"A Great Newspaper."

Under the above caption the New York Graphic, some three years ago, published a critical review of the growth of THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which sets forth so clearly some of the fundamental principles underlying the development of one of the phenomenal successes of later years that it will well repay a reading. To bring some of the Graphic's figures down to the present date, supplemental statements are parenthetically added by the present writer.

"THE newspaper entitled to the distinction of having the largest daily circulation in America is THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS. (Since this statement was made it is possible that the growth of the New York World entitles it to first place.) The Graphic to-day devotes a page to sketches of scenes in and about its establishment. The history of this paper is probably without a parallel in the annals of American journalism. It was founded December 20th, 1875, and was the first low-priced daily successfully established in the West. At the end of its first year it had achieved a circulation of about 10,000. From that time on its growth has been remarkable. It now prints seven editions daily, comprising both morning and evening issues. Its statement of circulation for the year 1884 shows a daily average of 125,178 copies, unquestionably the largest daily circulation on the American continent. (The sworn statement for 1887 shows a daily average of 165,376.)

"In politics THE DAILY NEWS is always independent, never neutral. While its editoral expression is sometimes vigorous to the degree of severity, there is always in its utterances of opinion so manifest a purpose to be impartial and fair to all opposing interests, that it rarely loses the confidence of the reader, however much it may fail to bring him to an acceptance of its own view concerning the matter in hand.

"As a newspaper proper, THE DAILY NEWS has earned a reputation for enterprising newsgathering second to none in the United States. It is the only cheap paper in the West that is a member of the Associated Press. It gives its readers all the news worth giving and gives it for two cents. (Now it does it for one cent a day.)

"Aside from its own deserving merits as a complete and cheap newspaper, it is doubtless much indebted for its remarkable growth in circulation to the persistent adherence on the part of the other Chicago dailies to the "blanket-sheet" style of journalism. Of all the people in America the average Chicagoan is most in a hurry and least inclined to wade through columns of verbiage and stuff. THE DAILY NEWS is the only Chicago daily that has the facilities for giving all the news, and at the same time the good sense to present it in concise form. The result of such a condition of affairs is that THE DAILY NEWS prints more papers than all the other Chicago dailies combined.

"In considering all the causes which have entered into and produced so phenomenal a journalistic growth the most important one unquestionably has been the controlling conviction of its managers that the "cheap paper" should be cheap only in price; that its news should be as fresh and complete, its editorial discussion as able, and its general tone and character as pure and heathful as its best and highest priced cotemporary. All this the "cheap paper" may easily be even at its reduced price.

"The difference of revenue between the two-cent paper (even more so when the price is one cent), and the higher-priced "blanket-sheet," the latter throws away in useless and unasked for size, that not only is of no worth to the reader, but is even an annoyance, in that it compels him to gleam what is of real news interest from a mass of verbiage and worthless amplication.

"It is because its managers have been wise enough to practically recognize these essential elements of the best American journalism of to-day that THE DAILY NEWS is the best and most popular general family newspaper published in Chicago or the West."

It seems hardly possible that an endorsement of merit could be framed in stronger terms than the foregoing analysis, and yet how much greater is not the achievement now that such a journal as THE DAILY NEWS is placed in every man's hands at the reduced price of ONE CENT A DAY.

The truly marvelous enterprise of American journalism can hardly go farther. Certain it is that THE DAILY NEWS leads the van.

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS is sold by all newsdealers at One Cent per copy, or it will be mailed, postage paid, for $3.00 per year, or 25 cents per month. The attention of farmers is especially called to the fact that this metropolitan daily now costs but little more than the old time weekly. The shrewd farmer will now have his daily market reports. Root & Company

No Use for Conquerors.

After all there are greater possibilities awaiting the boys of to-day than ever awaited the young son of Philip Macedon. Every American boy has possibilities that Alexander never had. There is a chance for him (and Alexander only had a chance) to become the founder of new states, the developer of new regions, the leader of new movements, the preacher of new creeds.

When Cyrus Fields laid the first Atlantic cable he did a bigger work for the world than did Alexander when he conquered Darius. When Morse invented the telegraph he laid the foundation for tremendous and unheard of progress. When Alexander conquered the Persian Empire, he laid the foundation for wars and bloody rapine for countless generations. Napoleon was the last of the moderns who attempted to gain any great extent of empire by conquest.

When Thomas Jefferson bought Louisiana of Napoleon, he showed the great Corsican a better way of conquest that his genius had ever suggested. Where is Napoleon's empire now? But the Louisiana of Jefferson, embracing nearly all our territory between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains—and beyond—is already one of the greatest empires on earth and destined for untold strides of progress.

So the occupation of conqueror is gone, and the modern boy who reads the life of Alexander the Great need not envy that reckless and dissipated young king. He was a great king in his day, but there is a possibility for the modern American boy to do more good in the world than he did.—Yankee Blade.

Advices received by the state board of health from all sections of Indiana show the general health of the inhabitants to be unusually good for the season. The 9th of August is considered the most unhealthful of the year, but so far this month has been an exception to rule. Typhoid fever and dysentery, which are usually exceedingly prevalent at this season, are very rare, isolated cases, appearing in a few localities early.

The law is peculiar in what it regards as a day. Most people think a day is twenty-four hours, but the law considers any fractional part of the twenty-four as being of sufficient length to term a day. Thus if a man is sentenced to one day's imprisonment he is merely shown through the jail and is then released. It is for the same reason that a young man becoming of age on November 7, one day after election, can vote. The moment that the 7th is ushered into existence the law considers the day passed and the young man therefore has served the last day of his minority.

Hon. C. A. Munson has returned from the Evansville encampment.

SWEET MEMORY.

In memory of Lida Doggett, who departed this life August 15, 1888, at Monroeville.

There is no death! What seems so is transition:
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian,
Whose portal we call death.

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst our loving sister and school mate, Lida Doggett, and realizing the deep affliction engendered by the loss of an affectionate daughter and sister; be it

Resolved, That we, the students of the M. E. college, unite in sending our heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved family.

She is not dead, the child of your affection,
But gone unto that school
Where she no longer needs your kind protection,
And Christ himself doth rule.

In the great cloister's stillness and seclusion,
By guardian angels led;
Safe from temptation; safe from sin's pollution;
She lives whom we call dead.

THE FIRST GUN.

The Democratic County Campaign to Open September 1.

The democratic county central committee has decided to open the campaign in this county Saturday evening, September 1.

The committee has distributed the speakers in a manner calculated to cover the county, and proposes after the program to prosecute the campaign in every school district in the county. This is a mighty battle for right and the permanent triumph of the democracy, so that every democrat and independent voter owes it to his party and his country to make the opening of the campaign a memorable event.

This is the list of speakers and their assignments:

Maysville—S. M. Foster and Hon. Mont. Hamilton.

Ari—Hon. C. A. Munson and Hon. D. D. Moody.

Arcola—Hon. P. S. O'Rourke and Hon. W. F. McNagny.

Sheldon—M. V. B. Spencer and W. S Oppenheim.

Leo—Hon. E. O'Rourke and J. M. Robinson.

Middletown—C. M. Dawson and W. H. Shambaugh.

Monroeville—Hon. C. A. O. McClellan and Hon. J. M. Barrett.

Everybody should hear the Haydn Quartet and the Euphonia Double Quartet and other good singers at the concert Thursday evening at the Temple.

All the Methodist clergymen are requested to meet at my study to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, sharp. Business of importance. D. C. WOOLPERT.

The Euphonia Double Quartet and the Haydn Quartet will assist at the concert to be given at the Temple Thursday evening by Miss Ida Kellogg.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Local News Budget Ground Out by the Railroads and Manufactories of the City.

The travel on the railroads is very light.

The Pittsburg round house was full of locomotives this morning.

James C. Grapes, of the Pennsylvania company, has gone to Ohio to visit friends.

There will be a big crowd at the south depot to-night to see the returning soldier boys.

Assistant Gen. Supt. George W. Stevens, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday.

A. S. Work, of the Nickel Plate staff, left on a tour of inspection of the western yesterday.

W. H. Spencer, an employe of the Wabash company, will leave next week for a tour of the western states.

The car wheel department of the Bass works had to close down yesterday morning on account of the rain.

P. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has been at Chicago for the last few days.

The boys at the Olds wheel works and White wheel works are arranging for another game of base ball Saturday.

The nineteenth annual convention of the Car and Locomotive Painters' Association will be held in Cleveland September 12 to 14th.

Jack Kensill, of the Pittsburg shops, was one of the speakers at the republican club meeting. He also sang one of his patriotic songs.

Mr. H. C. Clement has been appointed master of transportation of lines west of Toledo on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern.

The new Chesapeake and Ohio bridge between Cincinnati and Covington collapsed Sunday morning. No one was injured. The loss is figured at $200,000.

The readers of this column, who are subscribers for THE DAILY SENTINEL and who fail to receive their paper regularly should notify this office of such omissions.

The running time of the Chicago "limited" from Chicago to New York over the Pennsylvania railroad has been reduced half an hour by the schedule which goes into effect to-day.

Locomotive engine No. 132, built by the Baldwin Locomotive works, arrived in the city Saturday. This is the only one out of the original twenty built by these works for this division of the road. Twelve of them have gone into service on the Pan Handle roads and the balance remain on duty in the eastern division of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road.

A round of the railroad offices this morning failed to reveal any news of interest, and to the question, "What do you know?" put by our reporter to everybody he met, came the universal and unwelcome answer, "nothing." The fact was there was no news and a Yankee reporter even could not have found any floating in the air of the busy world without drawing hugely upon his imagination.

A monster engine passed through on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad Saturday. The engine is one of four built for the Fort Wayne company, and weighs sixty-five tons. These engines are calculated to make the run between Alliance and Crestline, over one hundred miles, without stopping for coal or water. The water tank of each engine has a capacity for two hundred barrels of water, and the coal supply will be ten tons.

The Switchmen's Brotherhood had a pleasant excursion to Rome City to-day, and although the weather was far from delightful, a merry party of over 100 assembled at the south depot, this morning to take the train for that delightful summer resort. The locomotive that pulled the excursion train was beautifully decked with the American colors and flags floated from every part of the great iron horse, while on each side of it were huge streamers bearing the words: "The S. M. A. A. of N. A." and "Benevolence, Hope and Protection."

Yesterday an old Quaker and his wife brought up at the Grand Rapids and Indiana ticket window at the depot. They were from Ohio and wanted to buy reduced rate tourists' tickets to Petoskey, and were informed by Assistant Agent Orin Ross that in order to secure tourists' tickets they were required to sign a contract, stipulating that no party other than the purchaser was to use the ticket. To this the old lady objected. They were around the depot all the afternoon and evening, not being able to make up their minds whether to take the risk or not. They were assured by Policeman Ryan that the contract was all right, but the old lady would not allow her husband to sign anything, and the old man finally bought two regular return tickets The old man appeared to be afraid that the agent was trying to work some Bohemian oats scheme on him.

Miss Ida Kellogg's concert at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening promises to be a grand affair. One word of advice is, secure your seats early and avoid standing.

Richard III.

The costumes, arms and properties used in Keene's production of Richard III this season are entirely new and were most of them imported directly from London during the past summer. Keene is never satisfied with anything that can be improved upon and is constantly studying to better please his audiences.

This is the secret of the complete success nearly always resulting in his performances.

Sale of seats, Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The concert to be given at the Masonic Temple Thursday by Miss Ida Kellogg promises to be the event of the season, and a rare treat to the lovers of music.

WE MAKE OUR OWN PENS NOW.

Rapid Growth of the Vast Steel-Pen Industry—Interesting Statistics.

[New York Mail.]

"Every year the citizens of the United States wear out about 130,000,000 steel pens," said a prominent manufacturer. "Twenty years ago most of the steel pens used in this country were imported. Now comparatively few are imported, and there are several factories in this country in which they are made in large quantities. At present the importation of foreign pens is mainly confined to the high-priced articles. It was first doubted that steel pens could be made in this country, but it was soon learned that the requisite skilled labor could be obtained for high wages, and the success of the pioneers led one manufacturer after another into the business, until now the field is pretty well occupied. Most of the work on these little instruments is done with the aid of fine machinery worked by women and girls. The steel used is imported, because it is believed that the quality is more uniform than the American steel. This uniformity of quality is necessary because of the delicate tempering required in the manufacture of the pens. That mysterious quality of steel which gives different colors is a quality that requires expert manipulation on the part of the workman who does the tempering. He must know the nature of the material with which he works, and with that knowledge he must exercise a celerity and skill that seize upon the proper instant to fasten the steel at a heat which insures the requisite quality.

"First the steel is rolled into large sheets. These are cut into strips about three inches wide. These strips are annealed—that is, they are heated to a red heat, and permitted to cool gradually, so that the brittleness is all removed, and the steel is soft enough to be easily worked. Then the strips are again rolled to the required thickness. It is the quick eye for color and the quick hand that fastens it that constitute the skill to determine the temper of the steel. When the steel is heated for tempering it is bright. The first color that appears is a straw color. This changes rapidly to a blue. The elasticity of the metal varies with the color, and is arrested at any point by instantly plunging in cold water. The processes of slitting, polishing, pointing, and finishing the pens are operations requiring dexterity, but by long practice the workmen and workwomen become very expert. There have been few changes of late years, and the process of manufacture is much the same as it was twenty years ago, and the prices are rather uniform, ranging from 25 cents to $4 per gross, according to the quality of finish. The boxes sold generally contain a gross. The best now in the market are of American make. Writers who buy foreign pens at fancy prices find them far inferior in durability to the American article. Persons who write continuously will wear out a good steel pen in two days."

It Was a Valuable Book.

"How are you spending your time now, Bingley?"

"I'm writing a book."

"A novel?"

"No, a book of advice for authors, editors, and reporters. It will be of great value to them."

"What became of that poem you wrote some weeks ago?"

"I sent copies to different newspapers, but they were declined with thanks."—Nebraska State Journal

THE average Mexican laborer supports his family on 10 cents per diem, invested in corn and beans.

JAPANESE engineers propose to adopt a system of earthwork defences protected by an iron shield one foot in thickness, and extending twenty-five feet on each side of the gun.

AMERICAN authors are more read than the English in Japan. Last year 86,000 English and 119,000 American books were imported into that country, so that the old question, "Who reads an American book?" was fairly answered.

A CITIZEN of Douglas County, Kansas, has hit upon a new way of destroying wolves. He puts a chunk of beef where the wolves will find it, and in the fight resulting for its possession one or more are sure to be left dead on the field.

M. PAUL LEROY-BEAULIEU gives figures showing the quantity of tobacco consumed in the different countries of Europe. The rate per 100 inhabitants is, according to him, as follows: Spain, 110 pounds; Italy, 128 pounds; Great Britain, 138 pounds, Russia, 182 pounds; Denmark, 224 pounds; Norway, 229 pounds; Austria, 273 pounds.

IT is reported from Detroit that a lad named Frank Bailey, 16 years old, has such a mania for thrusting pins and needles into the right side of his face and neck that it has become necessary to send him to a lunatic asylum. At the time of his departure he had from thirty to forty pins buried to the head in his cheek, besides an unknown number of needles that were out of sight.

THE average watch is composed of 175 different pieces, comprising upwards of 2,400 separate and distinct operations in its manufacture. The balance has 18,000 beats or vibrations per hour; 12,960,000 in thirty days. 157,680,000 in one year; it travels 143,100 inches with each vibration, which is equal to 9¼ miles in twenty-four hours, 2934 miles in thirty days, or 35,558 miles in one year.

IT has been legally settled in Texas that the moon has an immense influence in enlarging the brand on cattle. A lawsuit was pending relative to the ownership of a herd of cattle, and the solution depended upon the proof of the brand, which was found on comparison to be three times as large as the branding iron which the claimant used. Thirteen witnesses were introduced, all of them experts in branding and cattle herding. They all swore that when cattle were branded in the dark of the moon the brand will never, no matter how large the animal may grow, got larger than the dimensions of the iron used. On the other hand, when either grown cattle or calves are branded in the light of the moon the seat will spread, and the lighter the moon the larger will be the spread. And the suit, involving several thousand dollars worth of cattle, was settled on this testimony. So the question is legally settled that it is the moon that does it.

RAILROAD COLLISION.

Two Trains Come Together Near Lima, Ohio, Wrecking Two Engines—Two Persons Injured.

LIMA, Ohio, Aug. 28.—A collision occurred on the Dayton and Michigan railroad near here this morning, between a freight train and a special train coming from Ottawa with a military company on its way to Columbus.

The freight was backing into the siding and the flagman who was sent to warn the special failed to perform his duty. He has not made his appearance to explain his failure. The two engines came together and one or two cars were wrecked, but nobody was killed. Two passengers were hurt but were able to get home. One engineer and a conductor received slight injuries.

ELECTRIC CAPERS.

The Motor and Car on an Electric Railroad Run Away and Wreck Things Generally.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—The motor and car on the South Side electric railroad ran away this morning and was completely wrecked. Seven persons were in the car at the time and all were more or less seriously injured. One, Mrs. Rachael Herron, is thought to be fatally hurt.

The motor and car were coming down a steep grade at Mount Oliver, when the speed suddenly increased and the engineer lost control of the brakes.

The train sped with lightning rapidity to the bottom of the hill, when it jumped the track and plunged into a telegraph pole. The cause of the accident is attributed to the engineer failing to lower the sprocket wheel and being unable to stop the motor by the use of the brake.

LUCKY MRS. BIGLER.

She Comes Into Possession of a Nice Sum Through the Death of an Uncle.

WABASH, Ind., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Bigler, a well-known old lady of this city, has just received word that an uncle named Brandenburg had died in Germany leaving a fortune valued at $1,-000,000 to herself and a few other heirs, all living in the United States. The bulk of the property is in Baltimore, Md., consisting of a number of fine business blocks. The windfall is a complete surprise to Mrs. Bigler, who will undoubtedly come into possession of her share of the vast estate.

DIED FROM A STING

Peculiar Case of Fatality Near Ripley, Ohio—A Young Lady the Victim.

RITNEY, Ohio, Aug. 28.—Miss Lucy Stephenson, a daughter of Thomas Stephenson, Esq., a farmer living about five miles from town, died very suddenly about a week ago. She was engaged in picking grapes when she received a sting from some kind of an insect among the vines. But little attention was paid to this incident, but it afterward resulted in blood poisoning, which caused her death.

STRIKERS TRY TO STOP TRAINS.

The Wisconsin Central Has to Appeal to the Ashland Police.

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 28.—The striking brakemen on the Wisconsin Central railroad, when a train attempted to start out last night, pulled the pins and set the brakes. The police force was then called out, and the first freight train since Saturday was pulled out safely. Several other attempts were made to stop trains, but the presence of the police tended to prevent violence. Two of the strikers were arrested.

Mr. Martin's Canvass for Congress.

MARION, Aug. 27.—The Hon. A. N. Martin, democratic candidate for congress, is making a thorough canvass of this county at this time. He is leaving no stone unturned. His meetings are largely attended and the bare announcement that he will speak brings immense crowds of people and all go away favorably impressed. Recently he spoke to a crowded house at Fairmount, the hotbed of republicanism in this county; all could not get near enough to hear his speech, which was able and convincing and will bear good fruit. Friday night at Jonesboro he delivered another address on the tariff issue and then proceeded to knock the stuffing out of the tree whisky plank of the republican platform. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

Death of Barnum's Giantess.

LIVERMORE FALLS, Me., Aug. 28.—Miss Sylvia Hardy, the biggest woman in Maine, commonly known as the Maine giantess, died at her home, in Wilton, Saturday night. Miss Hardy traveled with Barnum for many years and was nearly seven feet tall.

New York Republicans.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The republican state convention met shortly after noon. General Benjamin F. Tracy was elected temporary chairman and addressed the convention at length.

AN ANGRY RULER!

The Morocco Emperor Instructs His Troops to Wreak Vengeance on the Rebels.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A dispatch to the Central News from Langier says that the emperor of Morocco is determined to wreak quick and fierce vengeance on the rebels who treacherously massacred Prince Muley and his 200 followers recently. The troops sent against the insurgents are given free license to ravage and burn. Neither children nor the aged are spared and the women are being outraged and enslaved.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The president has reluctantly declined the invitation to attend the grangers' meeting at Williams Grove, Pa., because he feels the necessity to rest.

The president's message and fishery bill were referred by the foreign relations committee to a sub-committee to report next Thursday.

SCOTT WON'T RUN.

The Pennsylvania Statesman Declines a Renomination, but His Constituents Demand His Return.

ERIE, Pa., August 28.—At the meeting of the democratic county convention yesterday the chief attraction was Hon. Wm. L. Scott, who was expected to say whether or not he would be a candidate for re-election. To the dismay of the convention, Mr. Scott positively declined to entertain any offer of a renomination to congress.

He gave as his reason for declining the nomination that his physical condition will not bear him up under the labors of another term at Washington, and that his ill health and deprivation of his home association has made him a most miserable man. The county convention indorsed Mr. Scott in a stirring string of resolutions, and the rank and file in the district will try to force him into the field again.

Before leaving for Washington yesterday Mr. Scott published a denial of the statement attributed to him by Hon. Orange Noble, that of saying: "We can never control the workingmen till he eats to-day what he earns to-morrow." Mr. Scott also posts Mr. Noble's allegation as an unqualified falsehood.

Brazil and a Republic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Consul Manton, who for eighteen years has been consul at Colluncia, Uruguay, in an interview said that the recent emancipation of slaves by Brazil was simply a sop to the large number of the southern provinces who, he said, are ripe for a revolution, and it is likely that as soon as Dom Pedro dies a concerted effort will be made to overthrow the throne and declare a republic in Brazil.

Quarrelled Over Politics.

CELESTINE, Ind., Aug. 28.—Frank and Elam Hall, brothers, quarrelled over politics, on the evening of the 26th, with Joseph Peavey, aged sixty-five, of Nashville, Brown county, Ind. A bloody fight was the result, in which Peavey used an axe. Frank's skull was fractured and he died at midnight. Elam, the other brother, received fatal injuries from which he died yesterday. Peavey escaped arrest.

Base Ball.

The following is the result of yesterday's games:

National League—New York, 2; Boston, 4. Detroit, 0; Indianapolis, 6. Chicago, 7; Pittsburg, 11.

Afternoon—Chicago 10; Pittsburg, 1. American Association—Baltimore, 4; Cincinnati, 3. Athletics, 6; Louisville, 4.

Typos Ready for the Parade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Typographical Union No. 16 met yesterday afternoon at Finstorers' hall. The committee on parade reported that arrangements had been made for the marching and uniforming of 600 men, who will participate in the parade of the Trade and Labor Assembly on labor's holiday, the first Monday in September.

Thrown Over an Embankment.

TIFFIN, Ohio, Aug. 28.—John Wirts was driving along the river road this morning with his sister, when the horse jumped over a thirty foot embankment, instantly killing the lady and fatally injuring Wirts.

Reports Exaggerated.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 28.—The report of the forest fires in the vicinity of Nadeau have been greatly exaggerated. No lives lost. No valuable timber destroyed.

Bunkoed Out of $2,000.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—John Doane, a wealthy farmer living in the suburbs of town, has been bunkoed out of $2,000 by confidence men.

Nominated for Congress.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 28.—The Ninth district democratic convention to-day nominated Hon. James McCabe, of Warren county.

Minnie Hauk Ill.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Minnie Hauk is suffering from nervous prostration, and will not be able to go to America next operatic season.

GOT THEIR PLUNDER

A Watchman Attacks Two Burglars, Who Flee and Leave $400 in Money Behind Them.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—A watchman seeing two suspicious persons entering a cab at Madison and Market, enquired their business. They opened fire and he returned it. They fled and the watchman, being wounded in the leg, returned to the cab and found a fine set of burglar's tools and a bag containing $400 in money. It was ascertained afterward that the money had been taken from the store of Henry W. King & Co.

A ROYAL WELCOME!

Awaits the Rifle and Battery Boys This Evening.

The Pittsburg passenger train from the west, due here at 7:40 o'clock, this evening, will whirl into Fort Wayne, the Rifle and Battery boys laden with laurels and trophies of the competitive drill at the Evansville encampment.

The hearts of the young militiamen are overflowing with gladness while home pride must stir the tenderest emotions of the boys.

They honored themselves and honored Fort Wayne, let us make their return triumphant.

The friends of the companies were active to-day and have made great preparations to receive their companions to-night. The City band will head the reception squadron, and fire works, red lights and everything calculated to brighten the entry is secured.

The line of march begins at the south depot. On the arrival of the train the procession will move south on Calhoun to Berry, on Berry to Court, on Court to Main, on Main to Calhoun, on Calhoun to Columbia, on Columbia to Harrison, on Harrison to Main, on Main to Calhoun, on Calhoun to the armory in the Wolke block.

Fourth race, five eights of a mile, Chestnut Bell won, Vendetta second, Renaman third. Time, 1:04½.

Rains in Southern Indiana.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 28.—The southern part of Indiana has been visited by much the severest rains of the year. All the creeks and rivers have become great and destructive torrents, flooding cornfields, sweeping away fences, stacks of wheat and hay, and carrying off a great deal of valuable hardwood timber. The fruit crop has also suffered.

Horatio Hastings Weld Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 28.—Horatio Hastings Weld, D. D., for many years rector of Christ church, Riverton, N. J., died at his home, in Riverton, last night, of heart failure. For a number of years he was the editor of Boston Transcript and he was one of the earliest editors of the New York Sun. He was born in Boston in 1811.

McAuliffe and Jem Smith.

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 28.—Joe McAuliffe and Jem Smith have virtually declined to fight Conley. The latter has issued a challenge to Kilrain to fight for $1,000 a side, London prize ring rules, to a finish for the championship of the world.

Gone Fishing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The president and Colonel Lamont and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller left Washington last night on a fishing excursion of two or three days in the vicinity of Clifton Forge, in Blue Ridge mountains.

Behind the Bars.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Cox who defrauded the Central Bank of Toronto last fall of $150,000, and who has since been here and in Buffalo, was arrested at Niagara, Ont., by the Canadian authorities.

MADE A BISHOP.

The Pope Appoints Rev. Dr. John S. Foley as Bishop of the Diocese of Detroit.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28.—The papal brief appointing Rev. Dr. John S. Foley to the bishopric of Detroit was received by Cardinal Gibbons yesterday. The consecration will not take place before November.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Mr. W. S. O'Rourke is able to be out again.

Mr. Lot Dickson, of Indianapolis, is in the city.

Wm. F. Beneke and Minnie K. Mennewisch have been licensed to wed.

The Platt Deutsche Fritz Reuter Verein excurt to-morrow and will have a gay time.

G. W. Ewing, H. C. Rockhill and Will Fleming, dined at the Wayne to-day with W. B. Nimmons, of Bluffton.

The students at the M. E. college gave a very pleasant surprise, last night, to Miss Jennie Herman, on Boon street.

J. Kaiser, New York; John King and E. G. Baker, Cincinnati; A. J. Lamm and A. W. Arnold, Chicago, are guest of the Aveline.

Mr. A. L. Johns left yesterday for Minneapolis and the northwest, in the interest of the harness business. He has an extensive trade in that section.

Dr. Geo. Howland, the superintendent of the Chicago schools, will lecture in circuit court room to-morrow evening, before the Allen county Teachers' Institute.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Rossington took place to-day from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John Wilson and was very largely attended. Rev. Wagenhals officiated.

Mrs. Frank MacDougal and her children, who have been the guests of Miss Katie MacDougal, of West Wayne street, will return to their home at Ottawa, Ont., to-morrow.

Peter B. Pickel, the young author, has been asked to read an essay to the Wayne Literary society, at New Haven, before his return east. It is not known whether he will accept.

H. H. Findley and V. C. Ingram, Indianapolis, J. H. Russell, Jackson; Duke M. Slattery, Fred Kundall, P. P. Holloday and C. O. Webster, Chicago; are guests of the Wayne.

At the meeting to organize a first voters' club in the Eighth ward last night, over fifty names were placed upon the membership roll. The boys up there are going to keep the banner for the ward giving the largest democratic majority.

Something like a million and a quarter gallons of water are pumped from the three new wells south of the water works basin every twenty-four hours now and the supply is almost sufficient. The contractor is sinking another well and will put down thirty of them altogether. This settles the water supply question.

Quite a large number of republican railroad men met at the Morton club hall last night to organize a Harrison club. Most of them looked into the luxurious parlors for the first time; none of them were ever invited to attend the winter receptions of the gay club; none of them were asked before to mingle with the silk-stocking statesmen; not one, but they come in now when they are politically useful. What a picture of equality this is, Mr. Railroader, isn't it? You are not good enough for Morton club society only when they want your votes. Just send in your application for membership in the club and see how quick you will be black-balled, rejected and humiliated, as many republicans before have, who didn't happen to be society people. The railroad men ought to resent this transitory hospitality and not partake of it, and we are honest about it.

Took the Bank's Funds.

HILLSDALE, Mich., Aug. 28.—Charles W. Waldron, one of the owners and managers of the Waldron bank of this city, has absconded, taking with him money and securities variously estimated at from $60,000 to $80,000. It is reported that a woman accompanied him, but this is not confirmed. He leaves A wife and two children, but before going decided a small amount of property to them. The bank is doing business and depositors will be paid in full.

Curious Phase of Deafness.

It is often said that persons afflicted with certain forms of deafness can hear perfectly in the midst of a tumult. A locomotive engineer, upon examination by a medical expert, was found to be deaf, and, although he protested that he could hear perfectly well while in the cab, he was suspended. Some time afterward, having made vain attempts to better his defect, he applied for reinstatement, again urging the fact of his perfect hearing while on duty. Finally, to satisfy him, the physician rode with him upon a locomotive for a long distance and put him to every possible test. To the doctor's surprise, he found him able not only to hear ordinary sounds without difficulty, but also to distinguish whispers and faint movements that were inaudible to the physician.—Boston Post.

RETURN TO WORK!

The Brotherhood Strikers on the Mackey System of Railroads Settle Their Difficulty With That Road.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 28.—A secret meeting of the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen was held yesterday to consider the strike on the Mackey system of railroads. A committee from each brotherhood was appointed to wait upon President Mackey. In the conferences that followed the committee notified Mr. Mackey that the strikers would return to work if he would agree to investigate the charges against Master Mechanic Smith, and if they were substantiated to remedy the evil. To this Mackey consented and the strikers returned to work.

A Scare at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—A man suffering with all the symptoms of yellow fever was admitted to the Medico-Chirurgical hospital last night. The hospital authorities refused to give his name, but it is learned on good authority that he was one of two passengers on the steamship Harwell, from Santiago, Cuba, to Philadelphia, by direction of the British authorities at the former place.

A Queer Dying Request.

XENIA, Ind., August 28.—Mrs. O. Taylor died yesterday at Peru. Her request that both hands and feet be amputated and taken from her body and sent to France for burial was complied with. The rest of her body will be buried in Somerset to-day.

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Athlophoros says nothing but—cures. Which? The worst of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 2, 1887

In my own family Athlophoros is used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by eminent physicians in this State and Massachusetts without avail. Acting upon my recommendation scores of people have used the remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON.

THE New York democrats met to nominate a ticket to-day.

FORT WAYNE must have natural gas and will give a liberal franchise.

SINCE January 1, $1,208,061 worth of real estate has changed hands at Evansville.

ELEVEN new democratic papers have been started in Indiana within the last two weeks.

ALL honor to the Fort Wayne Rifles and battery boys. They deserve a royal welcome to-night.

OCEAN steamers are racing now and friends might as well bid a tearful farewell to the passengers. Human life is a secondary consideration when the glory of a race is at stake.

THE Jeffersonians will indulge in their first annual parade Friday evening. The uniform is the white hat and cane. Every Jeffersonian should be in line and in uniform. Jeffersonian pride prompts this.

CHAIRMAN JEWETT having challenged General Hovey to make a joint canvass of the state with Colonel Matson, Chairman Huston, of the republican committee, is at sea. He says he will leave it to the other members of the committee and General Hovey to decide and appears to be weeping bitter tears at the idea.

MR. S. P. SHERIDAN, secretary of the national democratic committee, and Mr. Jewett, chairman of the state committee are at New York on political business. Mr. Jewett goes east to make arrangements with the national committee for prominent speakers for the Indiana canvass. It is his determination to have the ablest men available and his trip to New York is to make sure of getting just what he wants. The men from outside the state will be expected to devote their speeches chiefly to the tariff question and it is desired that they shall be men of such ability that they will be ready for joint debates at any and all times. The democrats are satisfied of the justice of the cause and desire to place the issue squarely before the people.

WEAK ARGUMENTS AGAINST MR. BASS.

The Indianapolis Journal has undertaken the task of answering Mr. J. H. Bass' magnificent plea for tax reduction. The Gazette, aping this example, attempts something in the same line this morning. The argument of the organs of the tax robbers is that Mr. Bass manufactures car wheels and English manufacturers cannot compete with him for they are not in the business. The spectacle of a manufacturer honest enough to be a tax reformer causes deep unrest in the bosom of the average organ editor and mixes his thinking qualities to a pitiable degree.

Next to Mr. Bass, the largest car wheel manufactory in the world is owned by the Krupps, in Germany. Mr. Bass knows he can compete with this great house, or any other, for that matter, and not impair his own interests or the interests of his workmen.

But Mr. Bass is not alone a car wheel manufacturer. His shops and foundries at Fort Wayne, Chicago and St. Louis do every conceivable sort of iron and machine work. His output must necessarily meet the manufactures of the Old World in the markets, but like the honest, progressive gentleman that he is, Mr. Bass courts this commercial and business rivalry, knowing that no injury can come to him or his.

The republicans can scarcely conceive such a thing as an honest manufacturer and finding themselves discomfited, make inglorious statements, such as the Gazette does when it asks if Mr. Bass ever imported pauper labor.

Mr. Bass' army of workmen in Fort Wayne will testify that he did not and they will rebuke such palpable falsehoods at the polls.

A PRACTICAL LESSON.

Mr. Blaine speaking for the republican party said, "he would not venture to say whether trusts are altogether advantageous or disadvantageous," but he was prepared to say that "they are largely private affairs with which neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any particular right to interfere."

Do the working people believe this is a wise policy to support?

The coal combination has just advanced the price of coal 25 to 50 cents a ton. It controls the full supply of this country so absolutely that no individual nor company, though possessing millions of capital, could successfully mine and send anthracite to market.

The sugar trust has advanced the price of sugar from 1¼ to 2¼ cents per pound within a few months. Its exactions will take from the people $30,000,000 this year in the arbitrarily increased price of sugar.

The democratic party proposes to dissolve and smash these robber trusts.

Mr. Voter, take your choice.

QUEER PROTECTION TO AMERICAN LABOR.

Saturday, July 7, over 2,000 Americans sailed from New York to various parts of Europe. They go to spend the summer abroad. It is estimated that the cheapest three months' tour that can be made in Europe will exceed $900. Many of those who sailed the 7th will spend ten times that amount while abroad, but it is safe to say that the 2,000 tourists will average $1,000 each which will in the aggregate reach the sum of $2,000,000. In the week ending Saturday, July 7, the number of immigrants which landed at Castle Garden was 5,161. I doubt if they brought $2,000,000 with them for "their immediate support," and if they did, this country made nothing by the exchange. But it is estimated that the total sum which they brought with them did not exceed $900,000, which leaves the balance of $1,100,000 in favor of Europe. Those who went to Europe did not leave vacancies in the ranks of labor, and they took with them what had been earned for them by American workmen, and in their place we find 5,161 foreigners dumped in upon the American laborer's shoulders, demanding that he divide up what little of his earnings he has left, after paying the expenses of his employer to Europe.—T. V. Powderly.

Blaine vs. Powderly.

James G. Blaine expressed the sentiments of his party when he said at Portland, Me., August 15:

"The trusts are private affairs with which neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any particular right to interfere."

Master Workman Powderly has emphatically expressed the opinion of the Knights of Labor and people generally when in his evidence before the congressional committee August 20, he said:

"The strong arm of the law should reach out and deal severely with trusts of all kinds. They are like highwaymen and should be wiped out of existence."

Foreign Pauper Labor.

In his evidence before the special committee on immigration in New York this week, Mr. Powderly sketched what he had seen in the Eckert mine at Frostburg, Md., 1882. He found a high board fence around the mine. Inside was a narrow wooden building, with rows of bunks filled with straw, on which was a ticking that once was white, but when he saw it was black, "and fully alive to the situation," he added with a significant smile. One hundred and five men slept there. He saw one man who came in on a crutch. His leg had been broken and the smell from the bandaging was so offensive as to keep the other men from his bunk. He rolled in just as he was, filthy clothing and all. Then some men came in and sat down to a rough wooden table to dinner without having washed their faces and hands. He saw them partake of meal water and salt pork, the latter "also very lively." The pork was bought at wholesale and kept till eaten.

"That was the class of people," continued Mr. Powderly," that comes here to take the place of the American miners who struck against the reduction of wages. They succeeded in breaking the backbone of the strike. The American miners were obliged to work at reduced rates, while the emigrants worked in some instance at less than half." This is the protection a high tariff gives American labor.

Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to purify your blood and give you strength.

Sixth Ward Jeffersonians.

The Jeffersonian club will meet at the Harrington block, Tuesday evening Aug. 28, 1888 at 7:30, to complete organization of companies C and D. All are invited. H. F. FRANCK, Pres.

M. J. HOULAHAN, Sec'y.

Mr. John H. Bass,

Toledo Bee.

John H. Bass, of Fort Wayne, is the most extensive manufacturer in Indiana, and interested either as manager, director or stockholder in establishments employing 2,500 men. He says he does not believe the passage of the Mills bill would have any bad effect on his business, or upon the price paid for labor; but that a general cheapening of raw materials would "place our manufacturers on a more nearly equal footing with their foreign rivals, would enlarge our markets, instead of keeping a Chinese wall around the country, and would thereby increase the demand for our labor;" and from this he draws the very natural conclusion that, "as the demand for labor increases, of course wages advance." Referring also to the proposition of the Mills bill to make lumber free, Mr. Bass says these have been for several years past in Fort Wayne representatives of firms in England and Scotland, buying timber and lumber for shipment to those countries, and he therefore believes there is not the slightest danger of this country being flooded by foreign timber or lumber.

These are the opinions of the largest employer of labor in Indiana, a man who has never had a strike of employes for higher wages, and his views can not fail to have great weight in that state.

A Circus Dressing-Room.

The dressing-room of a circus presents a queer scene during a performance. The dressing tent is divided by curtains eight to ten feet high into three different compartments. In one the men dress, in another the women make their toilets, and in the third, which is the first entered from the exhibition tent, the animals to be used in the different acts are made ready for their work, the horses saddled and bridled, and the trick animals dressed. In the men's dressing room was the Barnum, over 150 individuals at a time are removing their street garbs and getting into their ring costumes. Look in this department in the morning, when no performance is going on, and you will see only four or five rows of closed trunks, more than 150, stretching in five or six lines through the space. On posts four feet high, at intervals, are small, square table-tops and square 14x14 inch mirrors. The tables have chalk and bismuth stains, and there are marks of much usage on them. As these tables and before these mirrors the clowns and other performers make up. The trunks are arranged in exactly the same order in every town. Each man has his place, and he can go into the tent in the dark and place his hand on his trunk. All nationalities are here commingled. You can see a devout Arab among his companions in all conditions of costumes or nudity, sitting piously, reading his Koran, and Japanese acrobats carefully preparing themselves and their children for their act in the ring. All the performers are on hand at 7 o'clock, and when they go home after the performance their trunks are packed and locked, and so when we leave a city the trunks are lifted onto wagons and carried away, only to be deposited in exactly the same order in the next town in which we show.—Detroit Free Press.

But It Was Not Betting.

A party of church members in the blue-grass region, Kentucky, being fond of horse-racing, yet conscientiously opposed to betting, hit upon a rather remarkable method to give an air of excitement to their favorite sport. Macey Brothers, the horse-breeders, have a yearling named Cuckoo that they are willing to back for any amount from $10 to $100 to beat any yearling in Woodford county. The firm offer the following proposition for the benefit of church members: "To any church member owning a yearling, but who is opposed to betting, they agree that if the Cuckoo yearling wins the race the loser is to go to church attended by Mr. Macey on the Sunday following the race and deposit the specified amount in the contribution box. Should the Cuckoo yearling be beaten Mr. Macey pledges himself to do the same for the other church."—Philadelphia Times.

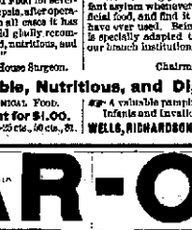
TAR-OID

NATURE HAS NO

Than this New Compound of Tar for

Wounds, Burns, Sores, Piles, Salt Rheum, Eczema, and



BETTER REMEDY

Coughs, Croup, Scrofula, Ulcers, Varicose Veins, Bronchitis, and Consumption.

TAR-OID must not be confounded with the cheap remedies which are prepared on the theory that Tar is Tar, and that one thing is as good as another. Diseases are caused by impure blood, and a want of vital action in the skin. TAR-OID restores this action, heals the sores, burns, cuts, etc. It is soothing and wonderfully healing—gratifying results follow in every case. Its balmy odor can be used with perfect safety by any one. It is superior to all other remedies. There is positively nothing else like it.

TAR-OID is a sure cure for piles. It never fails. We warrant a cure or refund the money. It gives immediate relief. It is perfectly safe, yet powerful in its action.

Old-Time Executions.

In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries our method of executions was most brutal. There was the long ride of the criminal in an open cart, with his coffin by his side, either to Tyburn or to the spot where he committed the murder; the cart was stopped under the gallows, the rope was fastened round the criminal's neck, the carman gave the horse a lash, and the poor wretch was left swaying to and fro, kicking. If he had friends, they would try to shorten his agony by hanging on to his legs and beating his breast, a shocking sight. But hanging then was looked upon as a holiday spectacle, in which we find the lower class took great interest and evinced much sympathy with the deceased. For instance, Claude Duval, the celebrated highwayman, lay in state at the Tangier Tavern in St. Giles' in a room hung with black cloth, the bier covered with escutcheons and with eight wax candles burning around. He was buried by torchlight, and was followed to Covent Garden Church by a numerous train of mourners, mostly women. Misson, a French writer who visited England in the reign of William III., says: "He that is hang'd or otherwise executed first takes care to get himself shav'd and handsomely dress'd, either in mourning, or in the dress of a bridegroom. This done, he sets his friends to work to get him leave to be bury'd and to carry his coffin with him, which is easily obtain'd. When his suit of cloaths, or night gown, his gloves, hat, perriwig, nosegay, coffin, flannel dress for his corps, and all those things are bought and prepared, the main point is taken care of—his mind is at peace, and then he thinks of his conscience. Generally he studies a speech which he pronounces under the gallows and gives in writing to the Sheriff or the minister that attends him in his last moments, desiring that it may be printed. Sometimes the girls dress in white, with great silk scarves, and carry baskets full of flowers and oranges, scattering these favors all the way they go. But to represent things as they really are, I must needs own that, if a pretty many of these people dress thus gayly and go to it with such an air of indifference, there are many others that go slovenly enough and with very dismal phizzes. I remember, one day, I saw in the park a handsome girl, very well dressed, that was then in mourning for her father, who had been hang'd but a month before at Tyburn for false coinage. So many countries so many fashions."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Western Sod Shanties.

To begin with, there is something forbidding and repulsive about the very name of shanty. We associate it with a condition of dirt and dilapidation, although there is no reason why a shanty should not be neat and clean both inside and out.

The word is said to be derived from two Irish words meaning an old house; therefore, a shanty need not be small, dirty, or out of repair. In this country, shanties are chiefly found in the West, and although they present no feature to gratify the artistic sense, they are better than they look.

The sod shanty marks the onset of the advancing wave of civilization, and it is never built with a view to more than temporary occupation, giving way in time to commodious and stylish dwellings or substantial farm-houses with spacious barns and outbuildings.

But, while it lasts, the sod shanty possesses qualities of more practical importance than mere beauty of form or color. It is warm in winter and cool in summer, and no other dwelling affords more secure protection against the storms which sweep across the country from the extreme north to the Gulf of Mexico.

Most of these shanties are finished inside in a style that renders them more than comfortable. Narrow boards are set against the inside of the walls and nailed to the floor, as well as to horizontal strips built into the wall for that purpose. Thin, cheap cotton cloth or building paper is tacked on these strips all around the room, and wall-paper is then pasted on in the usual way. The roof is of boards or of earth sodded over.

Thus, with ingenuity, taste, and a few hundred feet of pine boards, the enterprising settler and his wife will soon build a comfortable, if not elegant, dwelling, to shelter them until the increasing wealth of the settler warrants a change.

But, at its worst, the sod shanty of the West is far superior to the Irishman's hovel, the Mexican adobe hut, or the "auld clay biggin" which sheltered Scotland's plowman lad.—Golden Days.

IT WON'T BAKE BREAD.—In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

An Unsatisfied Longing.

How impossible it is to please some people. Railway train in Pennsylvania, spinning along about thirty-five miles an hour. Landslide lets a rock as big as a house fall across the track. Engineer reverses, puts on the air, stops the train with a jerk that sprains a man's back, and stopped about twenty feet on the safe side of the rock and eternity. Now the man with a sprained back sues the company for damages. Because the engineer didn't go on and break his neck instead of spraining his back.—Rosenblatt.

Malarial poisons can be entirely removed from the system by the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. This remedy contains a specific, in the form of a vegetable product, used in no other Ague preparation. Warranted.

A Woman Who Was Afraid.

A man was once walking along one road and a woman along another. The road finally united; the man and woman, reaching the junction at the same time, walked on from there together. The man was carrying a large iron kettle on his back, and in one hand he held by the legs a live chicken, in the other a cane, and he was leading a goat. Just as they were coming to a deep, dark ravine the woman said to the man: "I'm afraid to go through that ravine with you; it is a lonely place, and you might overpower me and kiss me by force." "If you were afraid of that," said the man, "you shouldn't have walked with me at all. How can I possibly overpower you and kiss you by force when I have this great iron kettle on my back, a cane in one hand, a live chicken in the other, and am leading this goat? I might as well be tied hand and foot!" "Yes," replied the woman, "but if you should stick your cane in the ground and tie the goat to it, and turn the kettle bottom-side up and put the chicken into it, then you might wickedly kiss me in spite of my resistance." "Success to thy ingenuity, oh, woman!" said the rejoicing man to himself: "I should never have thought of such expedients." And when they came to the ravine he stuck his cane in the ground and tied his goat to it, gave the chicken to the woman, saying, "hold it while I cut some grass for the goat," and then, lowering the kettle from his shoulder, imprisoned the chicken under it, and wickedly kissed the woman, as she was afraid he would! —Notes and Queries.

Scrofula, in the blood, corrupts and contaminates every tissue and fiber in the whole body; but whether appearing in the form of swellings, eruptions, or running sores, the malignant poisons of this disease are completely eradicated by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

THE INTER-STATE FAIR!

Most of the Preliminaries Arranged.

A Finer List of Attractions Than Ever Presented.

A Woman's Leap From a Balloon and Parachute Descent.

Grand Base Ball Tournament Between the Chicago and Cincinnati Clubs.

Magnificent Display of State of Georgia Products.

Unusual Attractions in the Speed and Live Stock Departments.

The Famous Cyclorama of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The Inter-State Fair, at Fort Wayne, this year promises to surpass, in point of sensational attractions, agricultural, horticultural and floral exhibits, speed and live stock departments, all previous exhibitions of the society. The association, at an enormous expense, have secured a list of novel attractions never witnessed in this section of the state before, and believe that the public will appreciate their efforts to make the fair a grand success. For the first time in the State of Indiana, a woman (M'lle Beaumont) of Cincinnati, will leap from a balloon at a great altitude and make the descent by means of a frail, umbrella-like parachute, to the ground. There will be a three days' base ball tournament, between the two best amateur clubs in the world, for the championship of Chicago and Cincinnati. Mr. Spalding, of Chicago, presents the famous "Keats," and Cincinnati will be represented by the renowned "Shanwalks," an organization that has repeatedly defeated the best league clubs in America. The next test will be for a handsome purse offered by the association and will be played upon its merits. A disinterested umpire, from a neutral city, will act during all the games. The great State of Georgia has fitted out a train bearing an exhibit of agricultural, horticultural and mineral resources of that commonwealth, which will be here to compete with our own section in excellence. The State of Tennessee will also have an exhibition of her products. Some unusually attractive purses are offered in the speed department, and evidences are already at hand of the finest display of live stock ever seen in northern Indiana. Among other side attractions, for which a slight additional charge will be made, is the famous cycloramic painting of the battle of Gettysburg, an exact fac-simile of the world famed painting at Chicago. The above, and numerous other attractions to be presented, ought to give to the Inter-State Fair of 1883, the grandest success it has ever achieved. Remember the dates, Fort Wayne, September 4th to 7th.

Tri State Fair.

The Wabash railway will sell round trip tickets to Toledo, Aug. 27th to 31st, on account of the Tri State Fair. Good to return until Sept. 1st, at $2.80. 25-5t

Hon. C. Edwards Lester,

Late U. S. Consul to Italy, author of "The Glory and Shame of England," "America's Advancement," etc., etc., etc., writes as follows:—

New York, August 1, 1883.
122 E. 27th st.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.,
Gentlemen:—A sense of gratitude and the desire to render a service to the public impel me to make the following statements:

My college career, at New Haven, was interrupted by a severe cold which so enfeebled me that, for ten years, I had a hard struggle for life. Hemorrhage from the bronchial passages was the result of almost every fresh exposure. For years I was under treatment of the ablest practitioners without avail. At last I learned of which I used (moderately and in small doses) at the first recurrence of a cold or any chest difficulty, and from which I invariably found relief. This was over 25 years ago. With all sorts of exposure, in all sorts of climates, I have never, to this day, had any cold nor any affection of the throat or lungs which did not yield to AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL within 24 hours.

Of course I have never allowed myself to be without this remedy in all my voyages and travels. Under my own observation, it has given relief to vast numbers of persons; while in acute cases of pulmonary inflammation, such as croup and diphtheria in children, it has been preserved through its effects. I recommend its use in light but frequent doses. Properly administered, in accordance with your directions, it is in any house. I speak earnestly because I feel earnestly. I have known many cases of apparently confirmed bronchitis and cough, with loss of voice, particularly among clergymen and other public speakers, perfectly cured by this medicine. Faithfully yours,

C. EDWARDS LESTER.

"A Great Newspaper."

Under the above caption the New York Graphic, some three years ago, published a critical review of the growth of THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which sets forth so clearly some of the fundamental principles underlying the development of one of the phenomenal successes of late years that it will well repay a reading. To bring some of the Graphic's figures down to the present date, supplemental statements are parenthetically added by the present writer.

"THE newspaper entitled to the distinction of having the largest daily circulation in America is THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS. (Since this statement was made it is possible that the growth of the New York World entitles it to first place.) The Graphic to-day devotes a page to sketches of scenes in and about its establishment. The history of this paper is probably without a parallel in the annals of American journalism. It was founded December 20th, 1875, and was the first low-priced daily successfully established in the West. At the end of its first year it had achieved a circulation of about 10,000. From that time on its growth has been remarkable. It now prints seven editions daily, comprising both morning and evening issues. Its statement of circulation for the year 1884 shows a daily average of 125,178 copies, unquestionably the largest daily circulation on the American continent. (The sworn statement for 1887 shows a daily average of 165,376.)

"In politics THE DAILY NEWS is always independent, never neutral. While its editoral expression is sometimes vigorous to the degree of severity, there is always in its utterances of opinion so manifest a purpose to be impartial and fair to all opposing interests, that it rarely loses the confidence of the reader, however much it may fail to bring him to an acceptance of its own view concerning the matter in hand.

"As a newspaper proper, THE DAILY NEWS has earned a reputation for enterprising newsgathering second to none in the United States. It is the only cheap paper in the West that is a member of the Associated Press. It gives its readers all the news worth giving and gives it for two cents. (Now it does it for one cent a day.)

"Aside from its own deserving merits as a complete and cheap newspaper, it is doubtless much indebted for its remarkable growth in circulation to the persistent adherence on the part of the other Chicago dailies to the "blanket-sheet" style of journalism. Of all the people in America the average Chicagoan is most in a hurry and least inclined to wade through columns of verbiage and stuff. THE DAILY NEWS is the only Chicago daily that has the facilities for giving all the news, and at the same time the good sense to present it in concise form. The result of such a condition of affairs is that THE DAILY NEWS prints more papers than all the other Chicago dailies combined.

"In considering all the causes which have entered into and produced so phenomenal a journalistic growth the most important one unquestionably has been the controlling conviction of its managers that the "cheap paper" should be cheap only in price; that its news should be as fresh and complete, its editorial discussion as able, and its general tone and character as pure and healthful as its best and highest priced cotemporary. All this the "cheap paper" may easily be even at its reduced price.

"The difference of revenue between the two-cent paper (even more so when the price is one cent), and the higher-priced "blanket-sheet," the latter throws away in useless and unasked for size, that not only is of no worth to the reader, but is even an annoyance, in that it compels him to glean what is of real news interest from a mass of verbiage and worthless amplication.

"It is because its managers have been wise enough to practically recognize these essential elements of the best American journalism of to-day that THE DAILY NEWS is the best and most popular general family newspaper published in Chicago or the West."

It seems hardly possible that an endorsement of merit could be framed in stronger terms than the foregoing analysis, and yet how much greater is not the achievement now that such a journal as THE DAILY NEWS is placed in every man's hands at the reduced price of ONE CENT A DAY.

The truly marvelous enterprise of American journalism can hardly go further. Certain it is that THE DAILY NEWS leads the van.

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS is sold by all newsdealers at One Cent per copy, or it will be mailed, postage paid, for $3.00 per year, or 25 cents per month. The attention of farmers is especially called to the fact that this metropolitan daily now costs but little more than the old time weekly. The shrewd farmer will now have his daily market reports. Root & Company

No Use for Conquerors.

After all there are greater possibilities awaiting the boys of to-day than ever awaited the young son of Philip Macedon. Every American boy has possibilities that Alexander never had. There is a chance for him (and Alexander only had a chance) to become the founder of new states, the developer of new regions, the leader of new movements, the preacher of new creeds.

When Cyrus Fields laid the first Atlantic cable he did a bigger work for the world than did Alexander whom he conquered Darius. When Morse invented the telegraph he laid the foundation for tremendous and unheard of progress. When Alexander conquered the Persian Empire, he laid the foundation for wars and bloody mains for countless generations. Napoleon was the last of the moderns who attempted to gain any great extent of empire by conquest.

When Thomas Jefferson bought Louisiana of Napoleon, he showed the great Corsican a better way of conquest than his genius had ever suggested. Where is Napoleon's empire now? But the Louisiana of Jefferson, embracing nearly all our territory between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains—and beyond—is already one of the greatest empires on earth and destined for untold strides of progress.

So the occupation of conqueror is gone, and the modern boy who reads the life of Alexander the Great need not envy that reckless and dissipated young king. He was a great king in his day, but there is a possibility for the modern American boy to do more good in the world than he did.—Yankee Blade.

Fitzpatrick; master of ceremonies, George Behmoll; assistant master of ceremonies, C. L. Dasler; quarter master, J. C. Howe; secretary, Capt. R. H. Harrison; treasurer, Wm. Rodgers.

The passenger department of the Pennsylvania has issued a little volume of about eighty pages, entitled, "Hand Book of the Pennsylvania Lines." It contains much information of value to the traveling public and tourists. Maps of all the principal cities reached by the Pennsylvania, showing the principal streets, location of depots, &c., in each city, and information as to hack fares and transfer charges are in the little volume, as well as much.

Advices received by the state board of health from all sections of Indiana show the general health of the inhabitants to be unusually good for the season. The 9th of August is considered the most unhealthful of the year, but so far this month has been an exception to rule. Typhoid fever and dysentery, which are usually exceedingly prevalent at this season, are very rare, isolated cases, appearing in a few localities early.

The law is peculiar in what it regards as a day. Most people think a day is twenty-four hours, but the law considers any fractional part of the twenty-four as being of sufficient length to term a day. Thus if a man is sentenced to one day's imprisonment he is merely shown through the jail and is then released. It is for the same reason that a young man becoming of age on November 7, one day after election, can vote. The moment that the 7th is ushered into existence the law considers the day passed and the young man therefore has served the last day of his minority.

Hon. C. A. Munson has returned from the Evansville encampment.

The city band will head the Jeffersonian parade Friday evening.

Col. O. L. Perry and Mr. Louis Heilbronner are at home from Detroit.

John M. Somers and M. Foster, of Waterloo, Ind., are guests at the Robinson.

Mrs. E. M. Stokes, of Douglas avenue, is at home from a visit to Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Eugene Karst, of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Max Nirdlinger.

Every Jeffersonian ought to be in uniform for Friday night. It will be a great parade.

Miss Kellogg's pupils have made every effort to have a program that will please everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rouse and daughter, returned yesterday from a pleasant visit at Cincinnati.

Rector J. H. Oechtering, of St. Mary's Catholic church, is at the bedside of a sick brother in Pennsylvania.

The Epworth league of the Berry street M. E. church will give a social in the church parlors, Thursday of this week.

Judge Bobo, of Decatur, left this morning for a trip on Lake Erie. His physician, Dr. S. C. Metcalfe, accompanied him.

The officers of the Jeffersonian clubs of the city will meet at the Academy tonight to agree on a program for Friday night's parade.

County Treasurer Mowrer is attending to the duties of his office alone, his assistants, Mr. Cal Hunter and Mr. Tom Greer, being ill.

Miss Ida Kellogg will soon leave for Chicago to reside permanently, and it is to be hoped that her concert here will be deservedly patronized.

The Fort Wayne commandery will drill to-night and after their maneuvres will be entertained by Sir Knights Wm. Geake and James M. Henry, of Jackson street.

All the members of the Jeffersonian clubs in the city should uniform themselves before Friday night, so as to participate in the grand parade to be given on that evening.

Arrangements have been made with the Valley Iron company, of Cleveland, Ohio, to manufacture the Petrole Fuel machinery, of which Mr. Max Nirdlinger, of this city, is the inventor.

We sincerely hope that the Fort Wayne people will come forward and show their high appreciation by all patronizing the concert given by Miss Kellogg, Thursday evening, Aug. 30, at the Masonic Temple.

The Fifth ward democrats will meet at Rippe Bros. office, on Broadway, tonight to elect officers for their Jeffersonian club. The Fifth ward will be in line in fine form Friday night. They never do things by halves.

The Warsaw Times says: "Alfred Irey, who is connected with the Fort Wayne Journal, spent Sunday in this place, visiting both parks, and taking in the sights. While here he was the guest of his old friend Joseph Thorn."

General Kiser, bar tender for Fred Bickness, will have a hearing before the mayor, Thursday, to settle the charge against him of selling liquor on Sunday. A charge of assault and battery is also pending against him in Justice Ryan's court.

Mr. J. J. Pauley, clerk at the Robinson house, will leave to-night for Chicago to visit his brother Ed. Pauley, who lost a foot in a railroad accident near that place the other day. He is an employe of the car shops at Hedgewick and was returning from a visit to Chicago at the time the accident occurred.

Vicar General Brammer, Chancellor John F. Lang, Rev. Father O'Leary, Rev. Father Mossman, Rev. Father Bomer and Rev. Father Delaney, who have been in prayerful retreat at Notre Dame, arrived home last evening. Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger will come home Thursday. Yesterday the clergyman of the diocese held a meeting and transacted the business of the year.

John H. Jacobs has sold to J. J. Jenkinson, lot 168, Fletcher's addition, for $350; Fred. Eckart to Henry Jacob, lots 121, 202 and 216, Eliza Hanna's addition, for $1,900; John A. Reed's addition, for $350.

Bishop William Taylor, of the Methodist Episcopal church, will visit Fort Wayne on the 10th of September, in the interest of the Fort Wayne college. Bishop William Taylor is now the bishop of Africa, where he is carrying on his self-supporting mission, and is regarded as one among the ablest men in the Methodist church. It is expected that many of the great men of the church will be in the city to hear the able and self-sacrificing preacher. The event being in the interest of the Fort Wayne college with a view to endowning that institution and of making arrangements to have his missionaries educated in this institution. It is expected that this work will result in great good in this school of learning.

C. M. Dawson will go to Chicago tonight to attend a convention of the Sigma Chi fraternity as a delegate of Theta chapter, Pennsylvania college, Gettysburg, Pa. This college fraternity has a number of prominent citizens of Fort Wayne as members, viz: Col. R. S. Robertson, Lambda chapter, Indiana university; James B. Harper and D. W. Baird, also of Lambda; C. M. Dawson, Max Nirdlinger and C. D. Gorham, of Theta chapter, Pennsylvania college; J. A. Curtis, of Alpha chapter, Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O.; Harray Hanna, O. W. Kuhne, Theta chapter, Michigan university; Chas. O. Wise, of Alphadelta chapter, Purdue university and others. Mr. Dawson will address the fraternity on Friday night at a banquet to be given at the Tremont house.

SWEET MEMORY.

In memory of Lida Doggett, who departed this life August 15, 1888, at Monroeville.

There is no death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian,
Whose portal we call death.

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst our loving sister and school mate, Lida Doggett, and realising the deep affliction engendered by the loss of an affectionate daughter and sister; be it

Resolved, That we, the students of the M. E. college, unite in sending our heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved family.

She is not dead, the child of your affection,
But gone unto that school
Where she no longer needs your kind protection,
And Christ Himself doth rule.

In the great choir's stillness and seclusion,
By guardian angels led;
Safe from temptation; safe from sin's pollution;
She lives whom we call dead.

THE FIRST GUN.

The Democratic County Campaign to Open September 1.

The democratic county central committee has decided to open the campaign in this county Saturday evening, September 1.

The committee has distributed the speakers in a manner calculated to cover the county, and proposes after the program to prosecute the campaign in every school district in the county. This is a mighty battle for right and the permanent triumph of the democracy, so that every democrat and independent voter owes it to his party and his country to make the opening of the campaign a memorable event.

This is the list of speakers and their assignments:

Marysville—S. M. Foster and Hon. Mont. Hamilton.

Arl—Hon. C. A. Munson and Hon. D. D. Moody.

Arcola—Hon. P. S. O'Rourke and Hon. W. F. McNagny.

Shaldon—M. V. B. Spencer and W. S. Oppenheim.

Leo—Hon. E. O'Rourke and J. M. Robinson.

Middletown—C. M. Dawson and W. H. Shambaugh.

Monroeville—Hon. C. A. O. McClellan and Hon. J. M. Barrett.

Everybody should hear the Haydn Quartet and the Euphonia Double Quartet and other good singers at the concert Thursday evening at the Temple.

All the Methodist clergymen are requested to meet at my study to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, sharp. Business of importance. D. O. Woolfrey.

The Euphonia Double Quartet and the Haydn Quartet will assist at the concert to be given at the Temple Thursday evening by Miss Ida Kellogg.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Local News Budget Ground Out by the Railroads and Manufactories of the City.

The travel on the railroads is very light.

The Pittsburg round house was full of locomotives this morning.

James C. Grapes, of the Pennsylvania company, has gone to Ohio to visit friends.

There will be a big crowd at the south depot to-night to see the returning soldier boys.

Assistant Gen. Supt. George W. Stevens, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday.

A. S. Work, of the Nickel Plate staff, left on a tour of inspection of the western yesterday.

W. H. Spencer, an employe of the Wabash company, will leave next week for a tour of the western states.

The car wheel department of the Base works had to close down yesterday morning on account of the rain.

P. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has been at Chicago for the last few days.

The boys at the Olds wheel works and White wheel works are arranging for another game of base ball Saturday.

The nineteenth annual convention of the Car and Locomotive Painters' Association will be held in Cleveland September 12 to 14th.

Jack Kensill, of the Pittsburg shops, was one of the speakers at the republican club meeting. He also sang one of his patriotic songs.

Mr. H. C. Clement has been appointed master of transportation of lines west of Toledo on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern.

The new Chesapeake and Ohio bridge between Cincinnati and Covington collapsed Sunday morning. No one was injured. The loss is figured at $200,000.

The readers of this column, who are subscribers for The Daily Sentinel and who fail to receive their paper regularly should notify this office of such omissions.

The running time of the Chicago "limited" from Chicago to New York over the Pennsylvania railroad has been reduced half an hour by the schedule which goes into effect to-day.

Locomotive engine No. 192, built by the Baldwin Locomotive works, arrived in the city Saturday. This is the only one out of the original twenty built by those works for this division of the road. Twelve of them have gone into service on the Fan Handle roads and the balance remain on duty in the eastern division of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road.

A round of the railroad offices this morning failed to reveal any news of interest, and to the question, "What do you know?" put by our reporter to everybody he met, came the universal and unwelcome answer, "nothing." The fact was there was no news and a Yankee reporter even could not have found any floating in the air of the busy world without drawing hugely upon his imagination.

A monster engine passed through on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad Saturday. The engine is one of four built for the Fort Wayne company and weighs sixty-five tons. These engines are calculated to make the run between Alliance and Crestline, over one hundred miles, without stopping for coal or water. The water tank of each engine has a capacity for two hundred barrels of water, and the coal supply will be ten tons.

The Switchmen's Brotherhood had a pleasant excursion to Rome City to-day, and although the weather was far from delightful, a merry party of over 100 assembled at the south depot, this morning to take the train for that delightful summer resort. The locomotive that pulled the excursion train was beautifully decked with the American colors and flags floated from every part of the great iron horse, while on each side of it were huge streamers bearing the words: "The S. M. A. A. of N. A." and "Benevolence, Hope and Protection."

Yesterday an old Quaker and his wife brought up at the Grand Rapids and Indiana ticket window at the depot. They were from Ohio and wanted to buy reduced rate tourists' tickets to Petoskey, and were informed by Assistant Agent Orin Ross that in order to secure tourists' tickets they were required to sign a contract, stipulating that no party other than the purchaser was to use the ticket. To this the old lady objected. They were around the depot all the afternoon and evening, not being able to make up their minds whether to take the risk or not. They were assured by Policeman Ryan that the contract was all right, but the old lady would not allow her husband to sign anything, and the old man finally bought two regular return tickets. The old man appeared to be afraid that the agent was trying to work some Bohemian oats scheme on him.

Miss Ida Kellogg's concert at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening promises to be a grand affair. One word of advice is, secure your seats early and avoid standing.

Richard III.

The costumes, arms and properties used in Keene's production of Richard III this season are entirely new and were most of them imported directly from London during the past summer. Keene is never satisfied with anything that can be improved upon and is constantly studying to better please his audiences.

This is the secret of the complete success nearly always resulting in his performances.

Sale of seats, Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The concert to be given at the Masonic Temple Thursday by Miss Ida Kellogg promises to be the event of the season, and a rare treat to the lovers of music.

WE MAKE OUR OWN PENS NOW.

Rapid Growth of the Vast Steel-Pen Industry—Interesting Statistics.

[New York Mail.]

"Every year the citizens of the United States wear out about 130,000,000 steel pens," said a prominent manufacturer. "Twenty years ago most of the steel pens used in this country were imported. Now comparatively few are imported, and there are several factories in this country in which they are made in large quantities. At present the importation of foreign pens is mainly confined to the high-priced articles. It was first doubted that steel pens could be made in this country, but it was soon learned that the requisite skilled labor could be obtained for high wages, and the success of the pioneers led one manufacturer after another into the business, until now the field is pretty well occupied. Most of the work on these little instruments is done with the aid of fine machinery worked by women and girls. The steel used is imported, because it is believed that the quality is more uniform than the American steel. This uniformity of quality is necessary because of the delicate tempering required in the manufacture of the pens. That mysterious quality of steel which gives different colors is a quality that requires expert manipulation on the part of the workman who does the tempering. He must know the nature of the material with which he works, and with that knowledge he must exercise a celerity and skill that seize upon the proper instant to fasten the steel at a heat which insures the requisite quality.

"First the steel is rolled into large sheets. These are cut into strips about three inches wide. These strips are annealed—that is, they are heated to a red heat, and permitted to cool gradually, so that the brittleness is all removed, and the steel is soft enough to be easily worked. Then the strips are again rolled to the required thickness. It is the quick eye for color and the quick hand that fastens it that constitute the skill to determine the temper of the steel. When the steel is heated for tempering it is bright. The first color that appears is a straw color. This changes rapidly to a blue. The elasticity of the metal varies with the color, and is arrested at any point by instantly plunging in cold water. The processes of slitting, polishing, pointing, and finishing the pens are operations requiring dexterity, but by long practice the workmen and workwomen become very expert. There have been few changes of late years, and the process of manufacture is much the same as it was twenty years ago, and the prices are rather uniform, ranging from 25 cents to $4 per gross, according to the quality of finish. The boxes sold generally contain a gross. The best now in the market are of American make. Writers who buy foreign pens at fancy prices find them far inferior in durability to the American article. Persons who write continuously will wear out a good steel pen in two days."

It Was a Valuable Book.

"How are you spending your time now, Bingley?"

"I'm writing a book."

"A novel?"

"No, a book of advice for authors, editors, and reporters. It will be of great value to them."

"What became of that poem you wrote some weeks ago?"

"I sent copies to different newspapers, but they were declined with thanks."—Nebraska State Journal.
